Eisenhower's 'No' Upsets Drive

Top Dems Refuse To Accept Answer

(By Associated Press)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flashed a "stop" sign today at the Ike-for-President bandwagon, but many of his Democratic supporters ignored the signal.

The general called for the brakes in a statement which said:

"I will not at this time identify myself wih any political party and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contest."

Now president of Columbia university, the former chief of staff made his views known last night through the university's public relations director in a memorandum released to the press.

President Truman, en route back to Washington from a speaking trip in Missouri, was reported cheered by Eisenhower's action. His only direct comment, when awakened and told of the news in St. Louis, was that General Eisenhower "is an honorable man."

But Mr. Truman's aides interpreted the statement as a death blow to the movement to sidetrack the President at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia.

Eisenhower said he was "profoundly touched by the renewed suggestion that I could satisfactorily fill high public office." But, he said, he had not changed his mind since telling Republicans last January that he was "not available."

That had stopped the Republicans. But some of the general's chief Democratic boosters held on grimly today.

CAUCUS CALL REISSUED

James Roosevelt, chairman of the California state Democratic central committee, was one of them. The son of the late President, who had joined with 17 others to issue a call for a pre-convention anti-Truman huddle, said in Los Angeles:

"General Eisenhower's statement clearly indicates that he will not serve as a partisan President but will answer a call to national duty. I am tonight, therefore, reissuing the call for the caucus to be held in Philadelphia this coming Saturday night."

The Eisenhower-for-President headquarters in Philadelphia announced that it was remaining open for business in a statement which said "we still have faith in his Americanism and patriotism and are certain that he will bow to the will of the people."

In New Jersey, where 36 convention votes were pledged this week to the former commander of allied forces in Europe, Archibald S. Alexander, Democratic candidate for senator, commented that he felt the draft-Ike movement might not "necessarily be finally closed."

A similar view was expressed by Hugh B. Mitchell, former senator from Washington, who earlier yesterday had wired President Truman urging him to lead the draft - Eisenhower movement. "What I said in that telegram still stands," Mitchell said in Seattle.

BACKERS DISCOURAGED

On the other hand, some Eisenhower strength began drifting away.

Georgia's Democratic chairman, James S. Peters, said that state's 28 convention votes, previously instructed for Eisenhower, now will go to Senator Richard B. Russell as favorite son.

Leon Henderson, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action which had supported the general, indicated that he considered the Columbia statement a flat refusal.

So did J. Oliver Emmerich of the southern state's right group which also had backed Eisenhower. In any case, Emmerich said in McComb, Miss., the boom "showed up the weakness of Truman. People already are convinced that Truman is a dead duck."

PROFESSOR DIES

WOOSTER —(AP)— Dr. James Milton Vance, 73, professor of religion at the College of Wooster for 37 years, died at his home yesterday.

Strike Shuts Steel-Owned Coal Mines

40,000 Miners Leave Their Jobs

PITTSBURGH —(U.P.)— The nation's "captive" coal mines were struck today by an estimated 40,000 miners and the walkout spread to the commercial pits.

All steel company - owned mines were closed as the miners refused to work without a contract. The walkout at the commercial mines was termed a "sympathy" demonstration by some union sources.

Others said, however, that the men at the commercial pits did not report for work because they had received no instructions from UMW President John L. Lewis in Washington.

The western Pennsylvania Coal Operators association reported that at least 11 commercial mines were idle because the men did not show up for work after a ten-day vacation. This despite the signing of a new contract covering commercial mines, representing about 65 per cent of the industry.

An industry spokesman said the situation in the commercial pits was "alarming."

DEMAND CONTRACT

The "captive" mine workers refused to enter the pits without a contract. The steel companies offered all the new money benefits of the 1948 contract but balked at the union shop clause without an election.

A check in the Washington-Fayette-Green county areas of western Pennsylvania showed that no captive mines operated. The mines were ready to work but the men did not show up.

The survey turned up the same answer at all the large captive mines: "We are open for work today but there's no one around."

The steel companies offered the men all the money benefits of the 1948 contract if they would work but refused to sign the contract without an election on the union shop provision.

UMW district men have stated flatly that the men would not work without a contract. And it was reported that they have instructions not to deal with any steel company seeking a settlement.

Settlement must be made with Lewis, according to telegraphic instructions received by some district presidents.

Footprint Spurs Hunt

SOMERSET, Pa.—(AP)—A child's footprint, in a wooded area a mile from the Collier cabin, today led searchers forward with new hope that 23-month-old Donald Collier may still be alive.

The baby disappeared last Friday afternoon and 300 or more volunteers and officers have been searching for him ever since.

Searchers said the footprint, to the northeast of the cabin site, was a fresh one, having been made since Saturday night's heavy electrical storm.

State police said the footprint gave hope that Donald is still alive since no children live in the vicinity where it was found.

Donald is the son of an Allegheny county coal miner.

Actor Saves Son, Wife From Blaze

DENNIS, Mass. — (AP) — Film Actor Jackie Cooper fashioned a rope of bed sheets to rescue his wife and two year old son when lightning started a fire in their summer home last night.

After being stunned momentarily, Cooper knotted the sheets, helped his wife and son out a second floor window and then slid to safety himself.

Hague Urges Truman To Coax Eisenhower

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—(AP)—Frank Hague, state Democratic leader, today urged President Truman to request Gen. Eisenhower to accept the Democratic presidential nomination.

The vice chairman of the National Democratic committee said in a statement that "the position of the New Jersey delegation is unchanged . . . New Jersey will cast its 36 votes for an out-and-out draft of Gen. Eisenhower at the convention.

Blind Plan Lake Outing

22 to Leave Sunday In Chartered Bus

Twenty-two members of the classes for the blind at the Salvation Army busy making preparations this week for their annual outing at Berts Villa on Lake Erie.

Mrs. William Jones, wife of the commander, said the Salvation Army had chartered a bus to leave at 8 a. m. Sunday. The group will return the following Saturday.

Blindness seems no detriment to enjoyment of the lake resort, Mrs. Jones said. There will be swimming twice each day and Major Jones is planning to teach the vacationists to pitch horseshoes.

He will also take them fishing either at Vermillion or Sandusky Bay. Members of the classes have been taught to bait their own hooks and get a big "kick" out of the venture.

Picnics on the grounds and games will be included in the daily schedule.

Use of four dormitories has been given the Salvation Army, two for the men and two others for the women. The kitchen and dining room will be in a trailer at the camp site.

Mrs. Jones will cook for the group, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. David McColgan of Akron. McColgan will take care of the men's dormitory and Mrs. Jones and Mrs. McGolgan will look after the women's quarters.

Expenses are included in the budget of the Salvation Army, a Red Feather agency of the Community Chest.

Thief Quits After 3 Tries

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Three times the persistent burglar tried to loot her home, Joyce Lynne Murray, 20, told police, explaining:

First she surprised him in the bedroom. He ran out the front way.

Fifteen minutes later he was on the back porch. She flipped on the light. He fled.

Soon she looked up to find him in the living room, a gun in his hand. She screamed and threw the nearest jar.

Third time was the charm. It was vanishing cream.

Crisis Headed For Climax

Russia Tightens Grip In Berlin Blockade

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States demanded directly to the Soviet government today that the Russian blockade of Berlin be lifted.

BERLIN—(AP)—The Russians placed strict controls on trucks entering western Berlin today, western-licensed newspapers reported, tightening their land blockade of the western sectors of the city.

The Berlin crisis appeared headed for a climax. In London, authoritative sources said the United States, France and Britain would send separate notes of protest to Russia today on her 18-day blockade. In Paris, the French foreign office said it had a document from the British embassy indicating a Moscow-directed communist plan to drive the western allies out of Berlin.

The steady flow of American supply planes into Berlin resumed at noon after bad flying weather in the west lamed the spectacular air lift for seven hours.

U. S. Air Force officials said planes again were leaving every four minutes from the Rhine-Main and Wiesbaden fields.

American officials said the German press reports of new truck controls apparently were true.

INSPECTS TRUCKS

The newspapers said Acting Police Chief Seidel in the Soviet sector ordered his force to inspect the loads of German trucks heading for western Berlin from the Russian section of the city. He directed the confiscation of foodstuffs, scrap, building materials and telephone equipment.

Such an order would erect another wall through the heart of the city, dividing the eastern from the western parts as did the introduction of two rival currencies by the Russians and western powers.

Air Force headquarters at Frankfurt said an American C-47 crashed last night near the Wiesbaden airbase while trying to land in bad weather. Two crewmen were slightly injured.

Arabs, Jews Reject Peace

(Compiled from Wire Services)

In Tel Aviv the government of the Jewish state of Israel voted today to reject the proposals of Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte, suggested to bring about permanent peace in the Holy Land.

A communique said that the Israeli state council decided on "complete rejection" of the United Nations mediator's proposals after a session which lasted three and one-half hours.

The Arabs previously turned down the peace plan by offering counter-proposals, avoiding any statement about outright rejection.

Count Bernadotte meanwhile gave the Arabs and Jews until Wednesday to answer proposals to extend the Palestine truce.

At Cairo a high Arab league official said that the Arab states will not accept a prolongation of the United Nations truce in the Holy Land.

The truce expires at 2 a. m. (EDT) Friday, after having been in effect for four weeks.

Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary of the Arab league, said that a new answer is being drafted by the league to the revised Palestine proposals of Bernadotte

Showers Due To Ease Heat

Occasional Rain Forecast For City

Mansfielders may look forward to occasional thundershowers to relieve the heat until Friday, the weatherman reported today.

Although some cool air from the west was scheduled to blow into northern Ohio later today, the balance of the state got no promise of a cool treatment until later in the week.

Even with the forecasters predicting slightly lower temperatures than yesterday's high of 85 here, conditions were slated to remain "quite humid and uncomfortable."

Tucson, Ariz., topped yesterday's list of hot places with a high temperature of 108. Bismarck, N. D., ran a close second with a high of 100. Chesapeake, O., on the Ohio river, took honors of being the hottest place in the state with a high of 98.

The weather bureau's five-day outlook for Ohio follows:

"Temperatures will average two to three degrees above normal. Hot most of the period, with brief cooling in the north portion Wednesday and throughout the area Friday. Few scattered thundershowers south portion Wednesday. Scattered thundershowers Thursday or Friday and possibly again Sunday. Total rainfall about one-quarter inch in north portion and one-half to three-quarters inches in south portion."

Mrs. Lausche Will Attend Club Picnic

Mrs. Frank Lausche, wife of the Democratic candidate for governor, will attend the picnic of the Dolly Madison club in North Lake park at 6 p. m. today.

Mrs. George Davis, president of the club, said Mrs. Lausche informed her she would leave Cleveland at 4 p. m. and expected to arrive at the North Lake pavilion about 6.

Young Democrats will join with the Dolly Madison club in the picnic at which all Democratic candidates for county offices have been asked to speak. Mrs. Davis said she expected more than 100 persons to attend.

Police Officer Goes on Trial

CLEVELAND — (U.P.) — Police Lieutenant Ernest L. Molnar went on trial here today on charges of having used his police position to gain control of the rich policy and numbers racket here.

Specifically, Molnar is charged with soliciting and accepting upwards of $100,000 in bribes from two convicted policy racketeers.

A total of 179 prospective jurors have been called in for the trial. A jury was expected to be seated by early afternoon. Molnar was indicted April 27 after the grand jury heard testimony from Luis Lorenzo and Harold Morgan, both convicted gamblers.

Fireworks Delayed to Midnight

Thousands Wait In Vain For Display

Thousands of automobiles inched their way along Park avenue east road Monday evening, as their drivers sought vainly to find parking places near the Blue Goose carnival grounds where Fourth of July fireworks were scheduled.

From the underpass on Park avenue east to Madison road, across to Ashland road, and to the top of Ashland hill, cars were parked solidly on both sides of the highways.

Thousands of spectators remained in their automobiles hoping to view the spectacle at the jammed carnival grounds from a distance.

Would-be spectators started to gather as early as 8 p. m. Parking spaces soon were exhausted from the Park avenue east underpass, on both sides of Wooster road and Madison road and beyond and solidly along Ashland hill.

As hour after hour passed, many became discouraged and edged their way slowly homeward long before the fireworks started about midnight. The spectacle had been advertised for 9:30. The American Veterans' committee sponsored the Royal Crown shows, which advertised the fireworks.

From 9 to 10 p. m., the traffic rush was at its peak. Mansfield officers assigned to the underpass corner at the intersection of the Ashland and Wooster roads abandoned efforts to permit left turns from the Ashland road.

As the traffic snarl grew in intensity, the State Patrol assigned a patrolman on the Ashland road at the Madison intersection.

Meager Clues Baffle Police; Four Injured

Working with meager clues, city, county and state law enforcement agencies joined today in a search for the man who bombed the rear of the Crescent cafe on South Park street early yesterday, injuring two policemen and two firemen.

Motive for the bombing remained a mystery today, more than 36 hours after the blast which shook the entire business district about 1:30 a. m., Monday.

Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab said demolition experts from the state fire marshal's office were expected in Mansfield today to inspect the scene of the blast for clues to the origin of the bomb.

The foot-and-a-half-long bomb, which was left at the rear door of the Crescent cafe, exploded as firemen were attempting to put it in a tub of water to reduce its explosive power.

R. J. Matthes, Lexington-Springmill road, proprietor of the cafe, was unable to explain the attack.

"All I know is that they got the wrong address; I haven't any enemies," he told The News-Journal.

LIST OF INJURED

Injured by the blast were Patrolmen William D. Mitchell, 26, and Joseph P. Butler, 24, and Firemen James Peck, 44, and Roy Reeder, 46. All four men were reported in "good condition" at General hospital today. Attendants said they would remain under observation for a short period.

Police were first called to the blast scene at 1:20 a. m. when Hugh Walter, 23 East Second street, saw a prowler at the rear of the cafe.

The two patrolmen sped to the scene in a cruiser and, seeing the smoking bomb, called for fire department aid. The firemen tried to extinguish the long fuse that was wrapped around the bomb by spraying it with water, but were unsuccessful.

The blast shook the entire downtown area. Chief Schwab said it awakened him at his home on West First street near Columbia avenut.

Mitchell, who was standing with Reader about 10 feet from the bomb, was knocked unconscious. The two policemen went to the hospital in their cruiser and the two firemen were taken by an unidentified passerby who was driving on East Second street at the time of the blast.

The city's detectives, County Prosecutor Theodore Lutz and Police Chief Schwab conferred more than an hour this morning, mapping strategy in the hunt for the bomb-planter. All detectives leaves were canceled by Chief Schwab.

"I will do my best to get any outside help I can get for the local authorities," Lutz said.

Commenting on the expected arrival of the fire marshal's men, Chief Schwab explained, "If we can determine the type of bomb, through state and Federal Bureau of Investigation records, we may be able to determine the origin of the bomb."

"Bomb makers, like anyone else, take pride in their work and leave certain identifying marks which may lead to their capture."

The chief said "every clue is being run down, no matter how insignificant, because sometimes the small ones lead to the big catch."

Chief Schwab issued a plea to all persons in the county who own dynamite to check their supply and if any is missing, to leave the scene undisturbed and contact police as soon as possible.

Police have only a meager description of the man who was seen at the rear of the cafe shortly before the bomb was found. It was so dark in the narrow court behind the building that residents of the apartment at the rear of the cafe said they couldn t describe his features or even his size.

DISCOUNTS GAMING LINK

Matthes, owner of the cafe, told the chief that he knew of no enemies and didn't have any idea why his place should be bombed.

Chief Schwab discounted rumors that the bombing was the outgrowth of a gambling war.

It was reported last winter, before gambling operations in the city were banned briefly, that Cleveland interests were going to open a horse race betting establishment in the building just west of the cafe.

Police said, however, that no gambling establishment was ever opened there. The building, former Wonder Bar site, now is occupied by the Park billiards and the Army recruiting office.

Both the chief and Matthes said there were no punchboards or other devices in the Crescent cafe. Matthes said he had had none of the devices there for two years.

The possibility existed that federal authorities would be called into the investigation because the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station, which is located on the second floor of the old Wonder Bar site, was damaged by the blast.

Police were checking cars seen in the vicinity at the time of the blast, but investigation and tracing of licenses had not led to any definite suspects today.

Policemen and Firemen Risk Lives to Save Others

By SHELDON BINN

Two policemen and two firemen risked their lives and were injured early Monday morning because they put duty above personal safety.

And it was a near-miracle that saved Patrolmen William D. Mitchell and John P. Butler and Firemen James Peck and Roy Reeder from being killed.

Peck and Butler were four feet away when the bomb exploded in the rear of the Crescent cafe. Reeder and Mitchell were about 10 feet removed.

Butler and Mitchell were investigating a report of prowlers in the rear of the cafe, when they spotted the smoking bomb in the doorway. They radioed headquarters and Firemen Peck and Reeder were sent on the double.

"When we got there," Peck, his head in bandages, related from a hospital bed yesterday, "we hit the foot and a half long bomb with hose water, but the fuse kept burning."

REFUSED TO RETREAT

Realizing that water wouldn't extinguish the bomb, the four men might have retreated and let the bomb explode—if they thought of themselves before the safety of the persons they are called upon to protect.

But they knew there were people living in second floor apartments in the building which housed the Crescent cafe and in another building to the rear.

While the patrolmen ordered curious persons off the porches just above the site of the bomb and woke up other residents, ordering them to the front of the building, Peck and Reeder filled a tub with water and pushed it with a pike pole close to the bomb.

"I didn't think that water would put the bomb out," Peck continued, "but I figured it would break the force of the explosion."

THROWN INTO AIR

"I was about four feet from the bomb — just about to pick it up and put it in the tub, when it exploded, throwing me into the air.

"I was lying on my back when I heard Butler, who was standing next to me yell 'I'm hit'."

Reeder and Michell also were knocked to the ground.

"We didn't kno what hit us —and I guess I was knocked unconscious for a couple of seconds," Mitchell related. "When I gained consciousness and was able to get to my feet, I grabbed Butler, who was almost on top of the bomb when it went off, and we sped to the hospital in our cruiser."

The policemen described the bomb as about a foot and a half long, five or six inches in diameter with a long fuse twisted around it and fastened with tape.

It Might Happen, Scientists Declare

Rocket Trips to Moon Possible In Future

WASHINGTON—Rocket trips to the moon within the lifetime of some of those who read this? That is the striking prediction of some scientific thinkers—not fantasy fiction writers—who now believe it is a definite probability.

A lot of other Americans also may become convinced that there is such a possibility after they view a spectacular traveling science exhibit which is starting on a swing around the country from the Museum of Natural History in New York City.

It is the memorial exhibit of the work of the late Dr. Robert H. Goddard, pioneer rocket authority. His discoveries were cribbed by the Germans who during World War II startled the world with the V-2 rocket.

The Guggenheim Foundation has financed the display which eventually will be permanently installed in the Smithsonian institution here.

The careful students of Dr. Goddard's research include more than three hundred rocket experts and aviation men in the United States, among whom are such flying pioneers as Gen. James H. Doolittle of Japanese bombing fame, and Charles A. Lindbergh.

Flights to the moon seem no more fantastic to them today than did the projected voyages of Columbus and Magellan to explorers five centuries ago

The discovery of atomic fission is what really has steamed them up. Whereas the problem of powering a space ship always seemed insurmountable before, they figure that a single significant discovery in how to harness the atom now could solve the propulsion riddle.

However, even before the discovery of atomic fission scientists began to do some specific calculation, and came up with an estimate that a 100-ton space-ship would need at least 8,000 tons of gasoline and liquid oxygen as fuel for a moon trip. That settled the matter in the negative for the time being.

Now, however, calculations by some scientists indicate that a few pounds of fissioning uranium 235 would be the equivalent of the tons of pre-atomic fuel, and no oxygen would be needed except for breathing by the occupants.

This has led to other awesome planning that reduces moon travel to a process somewhat like an eager vacationer getting down to the specifics of an automobile journey to the mountains.

Rocket enthusiasts point out that by maintaining a speed of "only" 175 miles per hour, the moon could be reached in a matter of eight weeks.

MIGHT TRY LANDING

The space-ship might then try to make a landing, or with side jets might circle the moon and immediately return to safe sanctuary on the earth. It would be a nonstop voyage of about four months.

The intrepid rocketeers hastily add, however, that such a trip would not be simple. There would be the problem of navigating, for the space-ship would have to aim for the moon on the basis of mathematical calculations that would lead unerringly to a junction in outer space.

These are elementary to any astronomer, however, and such "routes" already have been mapped out not only to the moon, but also to Venus, Mars and other planets.

The first 100,000 miles would be the hardest. There would be the initial thrust needed to free the craft from the earth's clinging gravitation.

The plan calls for a relatively slow lift through the 100 miles of relatively dense earthly atmosphere, and then a gigantic push up to more than seven miles a second—12 times faster than an anti-aircraft shell and far speedier than the one-fifth-of-a-mile-per-second record of present jet airplanes.

The space-ship would get "over the hump" when it was about 160,000 miles from the earth, for then it would begin to "fall" toward the moon instead of the earth.

The "hump" is nearer the earth, because the take-off would be timed for the new moon when the sun's attraction behind the satellite would exert an added tug.

Reverse rockets, working on the same principle as those propelling the craft, would be needed to apply the brakes as the moon was neared, for the moon has no atmosphere like earth's to act as a cushion.

On the return to the earth, however, the space-ship would have to ease itself into the atmosphere or the friction would generate white-heat, like that of meteors which now are seen glowing as "falling stars" when they bombard the earth.

Warren Sons Work Fish, Vacation

All Three Surprised At Dad's Nomination

SACRAMENTO, Cal. — (U.P.) — Earl Warren's three sons—who were just as surprised as most persons in the West at their father's nomination for vice-president—were variously working, fishing and vacationing today.

Jim Warren, 26, was working at his job in a San Francisco advertising agency, Earl jr., 18, was fishing in Montana, and Bobby, 13, was vacationing on the Russian river north of San Francisco.

The most laconic comment on the California governor's nomination came from Earl jr. He said he hadn't listened to the radio reports of the convention and that anyway he would rather go fishing than talk politics.

Earl graduated from high school here this year and then went to Europe on a "milk ship" for European relief sponsored by the governor. He was a guard on the high school football team and is a hunter and skier as well as a fisherman.

Jim was "completely stunned" by his father's nomination.

"It sure stumped me and I think the rest of the family was stumped, too," he said.

He added that Warren's acceptance speech sounded like he made it up on his way to the convention hall.

Jim was a son of Mrs. Warren by a former husband but was legally adopted by Warren. He is married to Margaret Jessee, formerly a nationally-ranked amateur tennis player, and has two children. He was a Marine Corps lieutenant who saw Pacific area service during the war.

Bobby, a junior high school student, said he didn't have any advance idea his father would be nominated for vice-president. He said he received "just postcards" from the family while the convention was on.

The most ecstatic comment came from Jim's four-year-old son, Jimmy Lee Warren, who exclaimed:

"Papa Warren's President! Papa Warren's President!"

His mother thinks he will get it straightened out eventually.

Communistic Areas Upset

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia —(AP)—The communist world still seethed this week-end in its self-brewed pot of trouble, boiling over the flames of the cominform attack on Marshal Josip Broz Tito of Yugoslavia.

The communist leaders of eight nations read Yugoslavia and its communist party leaders a searing sermon on their faults. This communist document must rank as one of the most important in the history of Marxist socialism.

Outwardly this laying down of the law by the modern prophets of communism was intended to topple Tito from his pedestal as a communist idol. But the language of the bitter pronouncement was implicit in its warning to lesser idols in the communist hall of fame that they must follow the path laid down by Moscow.

Russian Emigrant Serves As Israel Representative

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A six-foot, square-jawed, athletic looking Russian emigrant is Israel's first representative to this country.

Eliahu Epstein, son of a farmer, was born in the Ukraine in 1903. In 1924 he became a member of the Zionist pioneers, joined a Jewish commune in the Galilean hills and decided to consecrate his life to the establishment of a homeland for his people in Palestine.

In 1928 he got a chance to attend Hebrew university, founded with British and American funds three years earlier. He majored in Oriental studies and won a BA degree in three years.

He followed up his studies by going to live with a Bedouin tribe in the desert. He was made a blood-brother of the tribe before leaving eight months later. It was this experience, plus his university career, which gave the swarthy Epstein his acute insight into the Arab-Jewish problem.

Returning from his eight-month desert stay, he wrote "The Life of the Bedouin Tribe," which today is the standard text on that subject, and put in two more years of study, this time at the American university at Beirut, Lebanon.

In 1933 the Rockefeller Foundation offered Epstein a five-year scholarship for study in this country. He turned it down at the last second when offered a job in the political department of the Jewish agency. The agency was established by the British to work with them on major international questions.

Epstein had joined Haganah, the Jewish Army, in 1928, as a machine-gunner and fought in the riots of 1929 and 1936.

During the war his main job was arranging an underground by which German and Austrian children were taken out of their homeland, via Turkey, to Palestine.

Epstein came to this country in 1945 as a Jewish agency observer to the United Nations conference in San Francisco. He's been here ever since, living in Washington and working both here and at the United Nations in New York.

As Israel's representative (he will become minister as soon as we give fuller recognition to Israel), Epstein is working on three main projects: a loan from this government to Israel, more food for Israel and keeping the Palestine issue before the American public.

Brooklyn Cops Fear Jail Too

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — Brooklyn police took a look at the borough's plans for a new jail and said they may have to keep people from trying to break into it.

Plans for the $5,500,000 structure called for:

Cheerful colors throughout — "dull color adds to the monotonous and depressive atmosphere."

Four day rooms for each of the 11 floors "to provide rooms where inmates can hear the radio, leaving the cells quiet for those who need rest during the day."

Extensive use of glass blocks to let in all of the light possible.

Steel grillage instead of iron bars.

The new prison will replace the famous old Raymond street jail, long a Brooklyn eyesore.

Missing Plane Found In Snow

MEXICO CITY —(AP)— A joint Mexican-U. S. commission said Monday it believed its missing plane with 15 persons aboard had been found wrecked in snow on a volcano peak.

The plane, with eight U. S. citizens aboard, has been missing since Friday on a flight to Mexico City from Minatitlan, near the Gulf of Mexico.

The Mexican foot and mouth disease commission said the plane was believed to have crashed against a slope of 18,225-foot Orizaba peak.

Gas Nearly Burst Ribs

"My stomach bloated up so bad with gas I thought my ribs would burst," said a lady recently: "My whole abdomen was horribly sore from gas pressure. Now INNER-AID has relieved me. The gas pressure is GONE. This medicine certainly does everything claimed for it."

INNER-AID is the new, scientific formula containing 12 of Nature's Herbs. So it is like several medicines in one; it accomplishes several things at the same time, that is, it acts on bowels as a laxative and helps cleanse out old, foul substance that often causes headaches, dizzy spells, and worn-out feeling. It brings forth gas and bloat from stomach and relieves gas pains and swelling. Miserable people daily write us they get such a cleansing and invigorating from INNER-AID they soon feel like different men and women. So get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores.—Adv.

Huron Vets Visit State Farm Station

Some 60 veterans from the Huron county veterans' agricultural schools last week took part in a special tour of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station at Wooster. The tour was arranged by M. A. Bachtell, in charge of visiting groups, and G. A. Hummon, business manager at the station.

Points of interest visited by the group included the fertilizer and legume reaction tests and the demonstration plots of oats and wheat. The group was permitted to take a look at the new bearded wheat variety, Butler.

LEGAL NOTICE

Sealed proposals will be received by the Director of Public Service-Safety of the City of Mansfield, Ohio, at the office of the said Director, until 12 o'clock, Noon, E. S. T., Wednesday, July 21, 1948, for Additions and Changes in the Garage of the City Building of the City of Mansfield, as per drawing and specifications on file in the office of the Director.

All bids must be made on forms furnished by the Director and all conditions herein contained and all blanks must be properly filled in, except that prices shall not be bid for items not appearing on the estimate. No additional prices or qualifying clauses shall be written in.

Prices for labor and material shall be bid separately.

No bid will be allowed to be withdrawn, for any reason, after it has been deposited with the Director.

A bond or a certified check on a solvent bank located in Ohio, for an amount not less than Five Per Cent (5%) of the total amount of the bid must accompany this proposal, subject to the conditions stated in the proposal as security for the execution of the contract within ten (10) days after the award is made.

A bond for the fulfillment of the contract will be required in the amount of One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the contract price and in the form required by law.

Sureties on all bonds must be Surety Companies satisfactory to the City.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. Any award made will be made to the lowest and best bidder. Informalities may be waived at the option of the City.

Each bid must contain the full name and address of each person or company interested in the same. When there is reason to believe that there is collusion or combination among the biddres, the bids of those concerned therein shall be rejected.

By Order of the Director of Public Service-Safety of the City of Mansfield, Ohio.

E. T. GARRISON,
Service-Safety Director,
City of Mansfield, Ohio.

Blind Baby to Fly On 'Miracle' Hunt

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— A ten-month-old blind baby girl will be flown to Lourdes, France next Sunday in the hope that a "miracle" will enable her to see. The little girl, Karen Woods, of nearby Gibsonia has a film growth behind the crystalline lens of her eyes which doctors say no operation can cure.

Her 21-year-old mother, Mrs. Robert Woods, and her grandmother, Mrs. Marie Mueller, will accompany her on the 4,000 mile trip to the shrine of St. Bernadette.

New Londoners Win Easy Game

NEW LONDON — The New London Merchants had little trouble with a rather poor Cleveland Baron baseball team, winning 14 to 1 here yesterday afternoon.

The Cleveland team committed 13 errors and could get only two hits off the slants of Wayne Daron. The New London tosser struck out 13. Sam Zubrick of the home club had three hits in six trips, including the longest home run ever blasted in the New London park. The blow came with two men on base.

Holds Firing Without Cause

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's board of review has held in a unanimous decision that a woman who lost her job because she joined a union, had been discharged without just cause and therefore was eligible for unemployment benefits.

The board found that the woman, a dancing instructor, had not only been considered a good instructor but actually had received considerable publicity to that effect.

Evidence showed that the woman's employer had actually informed her that those employes who joined a union would be discharged.

Blind Baby to Fly On 'Miracle' Hunt

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— A ten-month-old blind baby girl will be flown to Lourdes, France next Sunday in the hope that a "miracle" will enable her to see. The little girl, Karen Woods, of nearby Gibsonia has a film growth behind the crystalline lens of her eyes which doctors say no operation can cure.

Her 21-year-old mother, Mrs Robert Woods, and her grandmother, Mrs Marie Mueller, will accompany her on the 4,000 mile trip to the shrine of St. Bernadette

New Londoners Win Easy Game

NEW LONDON — The New London Merchants had little trouble with a rather poor Cleveland Baron baseball team, winning 14 to 1 here yesterday afternoon.

The Cleveland team committed 13 errors and could get only two hits off the slants of Wayne Daron. The New London tosser struck out 13. Sam Zubrick of the home club had three hits in six trips, including the longest home run ever blasted in the New London park The blow came with two men on base

Holds Firing Without Cause

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's board of review has held in a unanimous decision that a woman who lost her job because she joined a union, had been discharged without just cause and therefore was eligible for unemployment benefits.

The board found that the woman, a dancing instructor, had not only been considered a good instructor but actually had received considerable publicity to that effect.

Evidence showed that the woman's employer had actually informed her that those employes who joined a union would be discharged.

Registered and Grade
At My Farm on U. S. Route 42;
Located Halfway Between
Delaware and Plain City, Ohio
Wednesday, July 14
7:00 P. M.—Lunch Served

Among these are first and second calf heifers and young cows, bred and raised in Canada. The better blood lines are represented. They are bred to some of the leading bulls in the Dominion.
Ten have records of production from 462 to 592-lbs. Fat. Five are classified "Very Good." Many of the heifers are from dams with records up to 621-lbs. Fat. Approximately 35 are fresh, the balance are springers.
The grades are selected for their size and quality of production. They also have been imported from Canada.
A large percentage of the entire offering is calfhood vaccinated.
Calves sold separately and guaranteed for one week. All registered transferred free of charge. Four generation pedigrees furnished.

Farmers to Start Harvesting Big County Wheat Crop Within 10 Days

By GUY L. TAYLOR
(Richland County AAA Chairman)

Richland county farmers will begin harvesting a big wheat crop within the next week or 10 days.

Binders will go to work first. Harvesting with combines probably won't get under way for at least two weeks.

Prospects for a big crop are good, but some rust damage has been reported in sections of the county.

Elevator storage space probably will be at a premium again this year as in the past since many of the large elevators in the central United States already have been filled by the early crop harvested in the southwest.

The Commodity Credit corporation is again making loans on wheat at near-market price to encourage farmers to hold their grain until storage is available.

The 1948 oats crop, compared with last year's almost complete failure, shows prospects of being somewhat above normal. A larger acreage was seeded last spring than in past years. Although oats is not considered by Richland county farmers as a cash crop, it is valued highly by farmers as a grain for livestock.

GRASS CROP BIG

The most important crops for dairy and livestock farmers are pasture and hay. The abundance of rain has produced a good crop of grasses. More fertilizer was applied on pasture this spring than in any previous year. Tests have proved that an application of lime and three to five hundred pounds of fertilizer per acre pays big dividends. The hay crop is good but much of it has spoiled in the fields because of excessive rains.

We are told that the spittle bug, which is present in hay fields, can be successfully eliminated by the use of spray.

In general, crops in the county look pretty good in spite of the recent wet weather. The corn is slightly above average and about a month ahead of the 1947 crop. Quite a lot of corn was planted very late in 1947 which resulted in a poor crop in many sections of the county both as to the quantity and quality.

It has always been claimed that corn knee high by the Fourth of July had a good chance of maturing. A lot of the corn is past that stage and nearer waist high. Corn yields have been increased considerably the past few years by new and better hybrid corn varieties and by heavier applications of fertilizer.

Around 800 acres of potatoes are being grown in Richland county. This acreage is much less than in the 1920's. Nearly all the potatoes are now raised on a commercial scale and much of the hand labor has been eliminated.

POTATOES LOOK GOOD

These potatoes all look good and are reasonably free from weeds. It has not been necessary to irrigate this year, but a thorough program of spraying has been under way for some time.

These potatoes are planted by tractor equipment pulling two and four-row planters, cultivated by two and four-row cultivators, and sprayed by large power sprayers.

At harvesting time more of the hand labor will be eliminated by the use of potato harvesters which will dig and sack the crop with a fraction of the hand labor formerly required.

The acreage in soybeans this year is about normal for this county and they seem to be doing nicely. The production should be higher this year than last since weather permitted earlier planting.

Late planting last year caused some of the beans to be caught by frost before full maturity was reached. This crop concerns farmers in the northern part of the county mostly as few soybeans are raised in the southern-most townships.

Reds Invited To Congress

LONDON—(AP)—Yugoslavia has invited all communist parties to attend the fifth congress of Yugoslavia's communist party in Belgrade July 21, Tanjug, the official Yugoslav news agency says.

Thus, it was felt, Yugoslavia has set the stage for an eastern European showdown on its policies this month.

The invitation was extended only a few hours after Bulgaria bluntly called upon Yugoslavia to say whether it plans to remain in eastern Europe's communist camp or seek a partnership with the western powers.

The action followed by a day Albania's decision to break off trade relations with Yugoslavia and its demand that Yugoslav economic, cultural and military missions get out of the country.

Both Yugoslavia and Albania figure directly in the deliberations of the Yugoslav communist congress.

Only a few days ago the communist central committee advanced the program it would advocate at the congress, including the formation of a Balkan bloc of Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria.

Major Battle Called Likely

NANKING —(AP)— Large Chinese government and communist forces were reported maneuvering in the central province of Honan Sunday, feeling each other out for a major conflict.

Some pro-government dispatches said there already was heavy fighting around Suihsien, 45 miles southeast of Kaifeng, but others declared there had been only occasional brushes thus far. All agreed that the government air forces were attacking continuously.

Taft Yields 'Voice-of-GOP' Job to Dewey

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Long a leading spokesman for the GOP, Senator Taft of Ohio has checked that ticklish job to the presidential nominee, Thomas E. Dewey.

"The spotlight belongs to the winner—Tom Dewey," Taft told a reporter here. "I'm stepping out of it."

For more than a year, Taft, chairman of the senate GOP policy committee, has been widely regarded as the "voice of the GOP."

"But Governor Dewey is the man to do the talking now," Taft said firmly.

Taft has returned to his home city of Cincinnati with Mrs. Taft for a brief visit. He will return here July 12 and then take off for a long vacation in Canada. He says it's "too early" to think or talk about seeking another senate term. His present term runs two more years.

35,000 Witness Parade Ending Morrow County Centennial

Area Marks Fourth With Fireworks

Record Crowds Hail Celebrations

An estimated 35,000 holiday celebrators, including Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, overflowed into Mt. Gilead yesterday to observe a two-hour parade marking the end of Morrow county's three-day centennial. It was believed to be the largest crowd to attend an event in this county seat's 100-year history.

More than 300 floats, bands, automobiles, horse drawn carriages and mechanical farm devices were interspersed between units of civic, fraternal and veterans' organizations.

Record crowds for the three days gave Mt. Gilead, county seat of 2,500 persons, a gay, holiday atmosphere.

Before and during the parade, automobiles were lined bumper-to-bumper along every street in Mt. Gilead. Motorists found state highway patrolmen both north and south of the city to detour them around the city over dusty gravel roads.

The second performance of the pageant, "Memories of Morrow County," was attended by nearly 3,000 persons last night, shattering the first day's record of 2,500.

OTHER FESTIVITIES

Elsewhere in the Mansfield area crowds jammed parks to witness giant fireworks displays and partake in holiday frollicking. .. ..

In Bucyrus, an estimated 5,000 persons crowded into Aumiller park to dedicate the new John Q. Shunk stadium, named after the retired industrialist who financed the project.

Mayor R. L. Hertzer accepted the gift and introduced the donor. A fireworks display concluded the festivities.

A band concert, baseball game and fireworks display in Galion aroused the enthusiasm of one of the city's largest throngs. A two-day celebration in town ended late Monday.

Crestline's populace celebrated the Fourth of July holiday in two-day ceremonies at Hamilton park. Sunday evening the Pennsylvania railroad's men's chorus, under the direction of E. G. Hesser, rendered a musical program.

COMMUNITY PICNICS

A parade and athletic contests for children Monday afternoon provided the huge throngs with entertainment until late afternoon when community picnics were held.

Similar events and fireworks displays took place in Ashland and Perrysville.

Perfect weather throughout the area enabled all celebrations to go off without a hitch in the programs. In many parades and skits, frollicking residents were dressed in costumes of the gay nineties.

Banners flew and antique furniture displays crowded onto walks in various parks where fetes were staged.

Oldtimers took a big part in many of the demonstrations and pageants. At Mt. Gilead, a large contingent of persons over 75 years of age, called the "Pioneers Club," paraded behind Gov. Herbert and later reviewed the marchers.

Rotary Seats New Officers

New officers were installed at Tuesday's meeting of the Rotary club, held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, and retiring President Millard Pryor was presented with a Rotary lapel button by Harold W. Arlin, a past president of the club.

D. L. Burns succeeds Pryor as club president, with Glenn L. Bierly as vice president, James Clark, sergeant at arms, and Walter W. Willis continuing as secretary-treasurer.

Eight new members were introduced and welcome to Rotary was extended by Dale Ward, these additions to the club roster being: Gilmore Hiett, Joseph Wright, Maurice Taylor, Irl Fisher, Richard Shaw, Maj. William Jones, Relmond Shaffer and Gordon Sowash.

Woman Injured In Fall on Steps

Rigid Water Conservation May Be Adopted In Ashland

ASHLAND — Armed with a board of health resolution declaring a state of emergency exists in Ashland, Mayor Louis E. Mansfield and city council expect to take some drastic action at tonight's regular meeting to enforce rigid water conservation in the city until adequate treating facilities can be installed at the waterworks.

The board of health resolution gives the mayor and council complete authority to deal with the current shortage of treated water which has resulted in periodic water shutoffs since Thursday in all parts of town.

F. H. Waring, Ohio sanitary engineer, is expected to arrive here today to help the city secure priorities for the pipe lines necessary for construction of the critically needed additional filters. Until the new filter-beds can be constructed, the present filtering facilities cannot supply sufficient treated water for the heavy consumption caused by Ashland's greatly increased population and the hot summer weather, the mayor said.

PERIODIC SHUTOFFS

With the city stand-pipe drained to the bottom Thursday by the increased consumption, water pressure went down or completely off during the periods in which the pumps was shut off to allow cleaning out the filter beds. To cope with the demand, the overworked filters must be cleaned out about every eight or 12 hours with a resulting shutoff of water pressure in the mains.

Mayor Mansfield said that if the necessary pipe can be obtained this week, construction of the additional filter beds could be completed in three or four weeks.

The additional filters would allow for treating of three million gallons of water daily, more than twice the present city consumption of some 1,300,000 gallons daily. There is plenty of untreated water available, the mayor pointed out, but all of it must pass through the present inadequate filter beds for purifying treatment before going into the mains.

PROTECTION ADEQUATE

Ashland's fire department is standing by with its fingers crossed hoping there will be no large fires during the emergency. The department's booster tanks, all filled with water, could handle any residential fires but could not cope with a large blaze in the business or industrial sections, Fire Chief Paul Soles said.

During the holiday week-end, water pressure stayed nearly normal, with local industries shut down and many residents away for the holiday.

The water department's harried office employes came in for a double dose of complaints Friday and Saturday. In the very midst of the "no water" complaints, consumers received by mail their semi-annual water bills showing the new increased water rates. The new rates were established to finance the $350,000 waterworks improvement program of which construction of the new filter beds is a part.

Red Cross Official Home From Meeting

Back at work this morning, Mrs. Bess Augsburger, executive secretary of the Red Cross, expressed enthusiasm for the national Red Cross convention in San Francisco, which 4,000 organization officials attended. It was "practically perfect," she commented.

One of the highlights was the appearance of Gen. Mark Clark at the convention dinner in the Civic auditorium where places were laid for 3,000.

Takes Fire Post

Carlton A. Smith of 223 East Luther place, appointed Friday as a new city fireman, took over today to serve in place of one of the two firemen who were injured Monday morning in the bombing of the Crescent cafe.

Mayor Cites Inadequate Care of Aged

Crawford County System Scored

GALION — Lack of an efficient system in Crawford county to take care of the aged when an emergency arises was pointed out today by Mayor H. H. Hartman from an experience he had over the holiday week end.

Mayor Hartmann, at the complaint of neighbors in the 700 block on South Boston street, was summoned Sunday to the home of Mrs. Minnie Finical, an 82-year-old woman, in need of medical care. The woman had been talking irrationally and was in no condition to be left alone, the mayor said. He took steps immediately to summon help from Crawford county authorities.

Mayor Hartmann, who has practiced medicine in Galion for many years, also took steps to care for the woman. He summoned a nurse and contacted the Crawford County Sheriff, Ralph Schreck.

The sheriff reportedly said he was unable to act without orders from the probate court. Mayor Hartmann said he next contacted Probate Judge Constance Keller who explained to him that it was a holiday and that she couldn't take action unless the proper papers were filed.

By Monday noon, Walter Sargel, Crawford county commissioner had come to the aid of the mayor. With his help, Superintendent and Mrs. Dinkel of the Crawford County Home for the Aged were summoned and came to Galion for Mrs. Finical.

37 Registered For Scout Camp

Thirty-seven area Boy Scouts have registered for the three one week camping periods at Camp Avery Hand jr. July 1 through August 1, the Mansfield Scout office announced today.

Registrations still are being accepted. An expected group of 50 boys will spend one week at the camp enjoying scouting instruction, campfires, adventure and overnight hikes, and riflery.

Field Executive Ray Turner will conduct a complete course in wilderness camping each week. The course will include cooking, tent pitching, knife, axe and com pass work.

He will be assisted by Eagle Scouts Gerry Dennis and Ray Stretch.

Railroad Issues Again Take Play In Market Activities

NEW YORK—(AP)—Railroad issues took the play again today in the stock market.

Fractional gains were posted for a number of carrier issues while the balance of the market jogged along over narrowly uneven price route.

Trading got off to a fairly lively start but later dwindled to the point of apathy. Business in the rails accounted for a large share of the day's activity.

Driver Warned Of Too Many Trips to Court

John G. Runyon, Mansfield, R. D. 3, with a record of more than a half a dozen traffic law violation convictions, was fined $50 and costs in municipal court today for having an improper muffler.

"You seem to have no regard for traffic rules and regulations," Judge H. H. Schettler said before imposing the fine. He warned Runyan that the next time he is brought into court on a traffic law violation, his right to drive in Ohio may be revoked.

Peter N. Arron, 429 Orange street, was fined $75 and costs for driving while under the influence of alcohol. His right to drive was suspended for six months.

Recruiters Win Recognition

Personnel of the Mansfield U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting service have been commended for attaining eighth place in the Ohio recruiting district during June. The Mansfield office last month recruited 61 men from the Mansfield area for service in the Army and Air Force.

O'Neil Urges School Aid

CLEVELAND —(UP)— James F. O'Neil, national commander of the American Legion, today urged a special summer session of Congress to vote federal aid for schools.

O'Neil told 3000 delegates to the 86th convention of the National Education association that "Congress should be recalled into session this summer to take up and pass legislation for federal aid to schools, with other major issues congress neglected during the regular session."

In asking for the federal school aid, O'Neil said "we do not have equality of educational opportunity in America, despite the fact we are the richest people on earth."

Mrs. Mabel W. Hughes, Arlington, Tenn., president of the National Parent council of Parents and Teachers, also urged more money for teachers, terming substandard classroom instruction "an acute national problem."

Bowman Appeals Court's Verdict

Donald DeVere Bowman, 29, of Cleveland, sentenced to 10 to 25 years in the Ohio penitentiary in Richland county common pleas court June 10 for armed robbery, today appealed the court's verdict to the Fifth district court of appeals.

A motion for a re-trial here was overruled on June 28.

Bowman was accused in the $248 robbery of the Wade and Roberts restaurant at Orchard park on April 5. His companion, Wallace R. Black, 24, of Columbus, was given five years probation.

CLARA LOUISE KOBER WED TO DONALD E. BUTTS

Vows Exchanged Saturday Before Altar of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church.

ST. MATTHEW'S Lutheran church was the scene Saturday afternoon of the marriage of Miss Clara Louise Kober, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Kober, 56 Mansfield avenue, and Donald Eugene Butts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Butts, 234 Rae avenue.

Vows were exchanged at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. Charles F. Sheriff officiating. Palms, ferns and lighted candelabra formed a background for the pretty service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an aqua dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Her only jewelry was a gold locket, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Joan Kober, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, attired in a pink frock and wearing a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Kober chose for her daughter's marriage a grey print dress with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Butts wore a pink dress with a corsage of white carnations.

Richard D. Butts was his brother's best man.

Following the nuptials 30 guests were received at a reception at the Kober home. Refreshments were served from a table centered with a three tiered wedding cake.

After a wedding trip to Cleveland and the lake resorts the couple will return to reside at the Mansfield avenue address.

The bride was graduated this year from St. Peter's high school and has been employed at the Westinghouse Electric corporation. Mr. Butts, who graduated last year from Mansfield Senior high school, is employed by the Ohio Public Service company.

MISS GRACE LETIZIA

* * *

Vows To Be Read July 17

At a party held recently at 243 South Main street, announcement was made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Grace Marie Letizia to Richard Eugene Snavely. Miss Letizia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Letizia, 243 South Main street,, and Mr. Snavely is the son of Mrs. Hazel Scribner, Solth Main street.

Fifteen guests were present when the announcement was made at a long table centered with mixed flowers. White candles were on each side of the center piece.

The wedding will take place in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church July 17 at 7:15 a. m. with the Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiating for the open church formal ceremony.

Miss Letizia graduated from St. Peter's high school and is employed at the Isaly Dairy office. Mr. Snavely, who is a graduate of Johnsville high school, is employed at the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Auxiliary Holds Ritual

Mrs. Virgil Hageman, president of the Ladies' auxiliary of Alfred I. Harrington Post No. 3494, Veterans of Foreign Wars, conducted the opening ritual and business session for the organization Friday evening at Memorial Hall.

Twenty-six members were present to witness the initiation of two new members, Mrs. Paul Whipp and Mrs. Lester Perry. Mrs. Harvey Burghard, chaplain pro tem, gave the obligation.

Mrs. Floyd Tomlinson, sales tax chairman, gave a report and Mrs. John C. Schneider, membership chairman, reported 144 members now on the roll.

Mrs. Burghard, Mrs. Carrie Snider and Mrs. Margaret Welty were elected delegates to attend the national convention to be held in St. Louis, Mo., sometime in September. Mrs. C. E. Sanderson, Mrs. James Brownscombe and Mrs. Elizabeth Harter were named alternates.

The organization set aside $100 which it will contribute to the relief for flood victims in the Northwest.

During the social hour Mrs. Hageman, Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. Richard Beal served a buffet lunch. Sweetpeas were arranged as a centerpiece for the table.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be Aug. 6 at 8 p. m. in Memorial Hall. It will include a business session and social evening.

Bible Class Meets At Coe Home

The Ladies' Bible Class of the Mayflower Congregational church met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Nina Coe, 311 Prescott street. Eleven members were in attendance.

Mrs. Ada Lurz, president, conducted the business meeting and Mrs. H. A. Rudolph was in charge of the contests for the evening, with the prize going to Mrs. Lurz. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be August 5 at the church for a covered dish dinner at 6 p. m.

Versatile Housewife Finds Use for 'Non-Usable' Items

By DOROTHY MONROE

ONCE upon a time there lived a very eccentric housewife. She used her frying pan to fry in. She used her carpet sweeper to clean with. She went to the retail store and bought new furniture to furnish her house with.

If you can believe it, this housewife never painted her skillet apple green and used it for a silent butler. She never disemboweled her carpet-sweeper, hung it on the wall and grew grape ivy in it. She never haunted storage warehouses looking for an old kitchen table which was really, under the paint, Chinese Chippendale.

But this housewife died a long time ago and she wasn't very resourceful.

Nowadays an American housewife can't look at a wheelbarrow or an empty medicine bottle without figuring some way she can turn one or both into home-made objects d'art. There is one Mansfielder who is an expert on this subject (expert: one who never skins her knuckles or gets tired muscles.)

Mrs. H. L. Princehorn, who lives at the corner of Brickman avenue and North Linden road, "has a million of 'em" in her repertoire.

Just about any sort of a vessel you don't have any other use for can be made into a lamp, says Mrs. Princehorn. She has several very attractive ones in her home. She also operates an antique shop in which she has lots of wonderful things to make electric lamps of—enormous amber bottles, coal oil lamps and even an old-fashioned pottery foot-warmer.

"Rumpus" or "bum" rooms offer beautiful opportunities for original ideas in recreating non-useful things into useful ones. If you have a huge kettle put it by your fireplace and use it for a wood bin. Another popular game room stunt is to rummage through the attic and find an old-fashioned wash bowl and pitcher. These pieces are large and durable and are ideal for cold drink pitchers and for popcorn or mixed fruit bowls.

Antique scenic platters and plates are among the many popular wall-hangings listed by Mrs. Princehorn. Others include lovely old fans, old picture frames holding mirrors, shadow boxes with shelves inserted and with the background papered in an oriental design—any number of unusual things which would blend well with the room's furnishings (not to mention how handy they are as conversation pieces).

An old washstand can easily be converted into a dining-room serving table or a stand for a record-player. The cupboard at the bottom is ideal for holding record albums or the "best" dishes.

The possibilities for containers for floral arrangements are unlimited. One especially nice one is a silver castor from which the condiment bottles have been removed. Replace them with small glass containers in which you have arranged your flowers.

Look over your supply of discarded items carefully because nerrly anything might be usable. Even a set of sleighbells can be salvaged and used as a front-door knocker!

Congratulations—the fact that you are reading this is proof that you got through the holiday vacation safely.

One parent complains that his son learned how to write a check long before he learned how to make out a deposit slip.

Why Continue Annoying Eisenhower?

NOTHING but a feeling of desperation could be responsible for the spread of support of the "draft Eisenhower" movement on the part of Democratic party leaders who are struggling frantically to ditch Truman as their presidential nominee next week.

This places Gen. Eisenhower, now happily installed as president of Columbia University, in an exceedingly unpleasant position, as he has very earnestly expressed a desire to stay out of partisan politics and has explained his views as to the undesirability of choosing a military man as president.

Gen. Eisenhower reiterated his stand in a statement issued yesterday in as convincing a way as would seem possible and which should relieve him from further annoyance of the sort to which he has been subjected by anti-Truman Democrats. He said: "I will not at this time, identify myself with any political party and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contests."

As it is now, Gen. Eisenhower's fame rests securely on his military achievements, and as head of a great educational institution he can look forward to years of busy but fruitful activities.

All of this pleasant prospect would be lost in the turmoil of politics, and, even in the event of election to the presidency, there would be life-shortening burdens to be assumed, coupled with assured loss of some of the high esteem in which he is now held by millions of Americans who regard him as an outstanding military figure but question the advisability of placing any military man in the office of president of the United States.

In final analysis, it appears that Democratic leaders now plugging for the nomination of someone other than President Truman are more deeply concerned over state and congressional contests than in the presidency itself, and have hit upon Gen. Eisenhower as a glamorous personality, rather than because of any special qualifications for the position to which they seek to nominate him.

With continuing probability that the nomination will go to President Truman on the first ballot, about all that is being accomplished by present maneuvering is to increase internal discord in the Democratic party, which is regrettable in view of the appearance of great confidence on the part of Truman that he will win in the November election—a confidence, by the way, which is sadly lacking among many students of the political scene.

Pay Raises Will Require More Money

THERE IS appearance of quite general agreement that salary increases should be granted to members of Mansfield's police and fire departments—in fact to all city employes. The only thing that stands in the way of doing this is the necessity of having money with which to do it.

As all of this money must come from what are known as "public funds," which are derived from some form of taxation, assessments, or charges for services, the problem becomes one for all taxpayers and citizens, as well as for councilmen and other officials.

While many people are inclined to feel that present taxes are sufficiently burdensome, it seems that local taxes are somewhat lower than in a number of comparable cities and this should be taken into account in surveying possible sources of additional revenues, as well as any emergency measures that may be considered.

If, as has been stated, there is any differential between the pay of city and county employes serving in similar capacities, this should obviously be corrected at the earliest possible moment, as the funds for such services come from common sources and there is no justification for preferential treatment.

This matter of pay increases for public employes is one in which it seems desirable to have the widest possible expression of ideas as to how additional funds can best be secured to meet increasing costs of municipal operation, and city and county officials would undoubtedly appreciate suggestions along this line.

Developing Atomic Fertilizers

AGRICULTURAL experts meeting recently at White Sulphur Springs, W. V., were told that fertilizers must play a big role in the fight against world hunger. Greatly increased effectiveness in plant food use was predicted by a representative of the United States department of agriculture as a result of the atom bomb.

The Atomic Energy Commission, it was reported, is financing an experiment with radio-superphosphates. These are put into soil on which clover is grown. This in turn is fed to cows whose milk, calves and bodies are studied as to the effect of the specially treated food. The result of this sort of program and other similar undertakings will be an advance in fertilizer production and use.

So much attention is given to the destructive force in atomic power that it is good to hear of this wide-range constructive aid the new discovery promises.

British Regulate Homebuilding

LAND OWNERS in England from now on are under rigid state control. If a lot owner wants to build a house, he must first obtain permission from the ministry of town and country planning and then pay a government-levied development fee which can be as much as 100 per cent of the land value. If a home owner enlarges his dwelling he is subject to a similar improvement tax.

The new housing control act gives broad powers to local planning boards to buy real estate for development on a uniform basis. One aid for small-income property owners is a fund from which they can borrow for help in meeting tax levies.

The act is apparently aimed at feudal land holdings, as well as at the achievement of community order in dealing with the critical housing shortage resulting from the effects of the German air attack on an already bad situation. For thirty years England has been trying to improve its housing. Americans know about housing problems, too, but they are somewhat nearer to their dream homes than are the British.

Now they're talking about meat prices going still higher—and what's the word that means next above "prohibitive"?

Strategy Being Mapped

By THOMAS L. STOKES

ANTICIPATING his renomination at the Philadelphia Democratic convention, President Truman is beginning to turn his attention, in conference with his political advisers, to the strategy for his battle against Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

A part of the design, naturally, is his running-mate who will be picked at Philadelphia, and the platform adopted there by the party.

While the President, himself, is described as being confident of ultimate victory in November, it can be said that this confidence is not shared by shrewd and hard-headed political realists in his entourage who realize a desperate fight is ahead.

It is generally agreed now that the big, over-all issue for the Democrats is that which the President, himself, raised in his tour across the country; namely, the 80th Republican congress. The story is to be the same that he told there—himself and his program and what the Republicans did about that program.

His only possible hope to win, in the opinion of some of his most astute advisers, is to go "all out" as the champion of the plain people against the interests that dominated the Republican Congress and to pull no punches whatever.

As part of this plan, it will be his endeavor to hang the Republican Congress about the neck of his opponent, Governor Dewey, on the ground that the Republican nominee necessarily must stand on the record of the Republican Congress and that, as its 1944 candidate and titular leader, he was in a position to influence its decisions.

While Governor Dewey has, in effect, accepted the load of the 80th Congress by his statement at Philadelphia praising its "remarkable record," Democratic strategists nevertheless recognize the adroitness of Republicans in denying a place on the ticket to any member of Congress and thus avoiding a direct target.

* * *

Public Apathy Noted.

A CURIOUS paradox that plagues Democrats as they plan their campaign was described by one of the highest-placed political advisers who said that no candidate ever had more issues than those which the 80th Congress handed to President Truman, and yet there never seemed to be greater public apathy over issues that affect everybody so directly.

One statistic symbolizes all the issues. This is the $50,000,000 in salaries and expenses reported by lobbyists operating here since the lobby registration act was passed in August, 1946, less than two years ago.

This, of course, does not represent the entire sum spent in lobbying which will run much higher. But it tells plenty.

It spells out the activities of the agents of big interests that have swarmed about the Capitol in the 80th Congress—the real estate lobby that killed the housing bill; the utility lobby which stopped the expansion of TVA, which helped to defeat the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, which stymied MVA for the Missouri river, and otherwise crippled the program of public power to provide energy so needed by industry and consumers in development of our country; the railroad lobby that got enacted, over President Truman's veto, the Bulwinkle-Reed bill to exempt railroads from operation of the anti-trust laws, and many, many others.

Big business has moved back into Washington. It has friends and allies in the administration itself who have tried to tailor policy to accommodate it.

Some members of President Truman's cabinet, for example, brought pressure upon him to sign the Bulwinkle-Reed bill, and such administration leaders will try to get him to go easy in the campaign in order to appeal to conservative interests which, of course, will support the Republican ticket.

Washington Calling

Atomic Energy Discord

By MARQUIS CHILDS

OF ALL the problems dumped on the White House doorstep by the departing Congress, none has caused more debate and more anxious study than the question of what to do about the Atomic Energy Commission. To begin without, of course, it was put up to the President on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

In accord with the McMahon act, passed last year, President Truman sent to the Senate for confirmation the names of the five present members of the commission.

Chairman David E. Lilienthal was named for a five-year term and the others for terms ranging from four years to one year.

This was all—supposedly—on a nonpolitical basis. But Majority Leader Robert A. Taft promptly served notice that he would oppose Lilienthal's confirmation as he had the year before.

A prolonged and bitter fight, to come on the very eve of the selection of a Republican nominee for president, was threatened. The Republican chairman of the joint Senate-House atomic energy committee, Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper, wanted to avoid such a fight if he possibly could. So did Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who had been largely instrumental in obtaining Lilienthal's original confirmation for a one-year test period.

Together Hickenlooper and Vandenberg agreed on a strategy. They would ignore the President's appointments which would not even be considered by the joint committee. Instead they would put through a bill amending the McMahon act so as to extend the present terms for two more years.

This is the bill placed before the President. His advisers have urged him to sign it, and that is his present intention. In fact, before this is in print he may reluctantly have put his signature to what he feels is a poor compromise and a deliberate effort by the legislature to rob him of his constitutional right of appointment.

* * *

Not Good Either Way.

BUT what it comes down to is half a loaf or, in this instance, a quarter loaf being better than none. If he vetoed the bill, all the President could do would be to give the five commissioners interim appointments that would expire when Congress returned in January.

In other words, continuity of direction over the vast atomic energy project would be for six months. The Hickenlooper-Vandenberg measure at least gives an assurance of two years under present management.

You have only to translate this into terms of a business operation to see what it means. At the Hanford atomic plant in the state of Washington one of the largest construction projects in peacetime history is going forward under the customary secrecy as to its objective. It was initiated by the present commission.

The effect of suddenly removing the whole board of directors, or announcing that their tenure was limited to a few months, can easily be imagined if this were a private business.

The same tremors of uncertainty, with resulting delay and confusion, apply to perhaps an even greater degree in government. It comes on top of the current of hostility, doubt and resentment released by the loyalty investigation into the background of all scientists connected with the great enterprise.

As shown in a series of articles in the New York Herald-Tribune, the reports on some of the scientists were based on the flimsiest kind of gossip in the "guilty by association" technique.

This relates directly to whether American atomic science will continue to lead the world. If scientists are frightened out of government by police-state methods, this country will not long hold that lead.

At the University of Virginia commencement Mr. Lilienthal urged that every citizen with the privilege of a college education consider devoting several years of his life to government service.

That is a remarkable prescription from one who has given so much and at the same time endured so much, fending off the attacks of those who seem to want to destroy all government.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman Spurns Advice From Hannegan

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Bob Hannegan, the man who made Harry Truman, had lunch with his ex-boss in Washington just a week ago. Since he retired as postmaster general and became head of the St. Louis Cardinals, Hannegan has seen little of the President. However, he hoped at this luncheon to tell him frankly that he had no chance to win next November.

However, court jester George Allen is now chuckling over the fact that Hannegan never got a chance to open his mouth. Hannegan is quite a talker; so, perhaps suspecting what was coming, Truman had the scene all set.

Genial George, the gentleman from Mississippi, originally appointed to the White House secretariat on the recommendation of Hannegan, was at the luncheon apparently to monopolize the conversation. Long ago he and Hannegan broke. In fact, Hannegan tried to get Allen euchred out of the White House because of his reactionary influence.

During the luncheon conversation, Truman described Governor Dewey as a "pushover." He was cocksure and full of confidence. Senator Taft, he admitted, was the man he preferred as the Republican candidate, but Dewey would be just as easy.

George Allen, equally confident, chanted the song of victory.

Hannegan had come prepared to give his ex-boss a careful analysis of the political situation. He was going to tell him frankly that he should double the current talk about deflection in the Democratic party. And when it came to reports of defeat, he should triple them. But Hannegan never had a chance. He wasn't asked anything. And, somewhat miffed, he didn't volunteer anything.

Almost as if to prevent Hannegan's advice, Truman volunteered this amazing statement:

"Connelly and Allen are my best political brains."

Anyone who has a speaking acquaintance with Matt Connelly, the presidential secretary, and George Allen, partner of GOP national treasurer James Kemper, knows that when it comes to campaign strategy, they are as spunky as a dishrag.

Hannegan departed, vowing never to come back to Washington until January, 1949.

Democratic Rollcall.

DEMOCRATIC bigwigs are starting for their Philadelphia convention with more dismal faces than in the last 24 years. Just one week before they settle down to the serious business of picking a leader to buck the formidable Dewey-Warren ticket, here is a cross-section of how the men who put Harry Truman in office now think about his renomination:

Bob Hannegan—You can't put a bush-leaguer in against a big-leaguer. The crowds get wise. I couldn't do it on my baseball team, and the Democratic party can't do it with the voting public. There are four men around Truman who are a menace to America. They have him coked up so he thinks he can win.

Ed Kelly, ex-Mayor of Chicago—Justice William O. Douglas and General Eisenhower are both fine men, well equipped to lead the country.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky—Unenthusiastic but loyal.

Ex-Speaker Sam Rayburn—Worried. A lot of good men will be snowed uhder in the congressional election if Truman heads the ticket.

Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Pa.—Pennsylvania Democrats are rebelling against Truman.

Ed Flynn, boss of the Bronx—Will sit this one out. No use talking to Truman. He's got his back up and nothing can change him.

Jimmy Roosevelt—The majority of California delegates feel they should not be chained to a dead horse.

Frank McHale of Indiana—Indiana delegates would like to vote for someone besides Truman if there was anyone else to tie to.

Mayor Kennelly of Chicago—Sympathetic to Truman. Feels sorry for him.

Paul Fitzpatrick of New York—Federal patronage came his way. He is standing by Truman, though most of his delegates aren't.

Robert Tehan of Wisconsin—Never saw such a stampede for Eisenhower as at the last caucus.

Senator McClellan of Arkansas—It is not a matter of saving the Democratic party. It's a matter of saving the nation and the world.

Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut—If the Democratic party is snowed under in November, the two-party system will be weakened if not jeopardized, not for four years but for twelve years.

Senator Olin Johnston of South Carolina—Mr. Truman should realize that no man is bigger than his party.

Assignment: America

Have Much In Common

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—Before everyone gets too fully engrossed in the Democratic high-jinks up at the City of Brotherly Love, it might be wise to wrap up a few footnotes about the last Philadelphia fanfare—namely the Republican convention.

Chief among such off-the-cuff comments, as far as this correspondent is concerned, were the various references to the man who might have been President, but who instead was selected as the GOP choice for second place on the ticket—California's Governor Earl Warren.

An eastern area publisher, who owns a couple or three papers and a radio station or two, was sitting in the press section when the Warrens appeared to receive the convention's nod and ovation. He turned to me and said:

"They certainly are a fine-looking, open-faced family, aren't they? Looking at him, you almost wish he was heading the ticket, although I have nothing against Dewey. But what does anybody really know about Warren?"

In a sense, both of his questions summed up the general reaction to the Republican's vice-presidential nominee. For, to a large extent, Earl Warren actually was the question mark of the conclave.

Unlike Taft and Vandenberg, he had no Washington background, and thus none of the national news-making facilities for reaching the majority of American families. Unlike Dewey (with whom he refused to run four years ago) he had neither the advertising advantage of a previous national campaign, nor the material aid of a well-organized political machine.

Unlike Stassen, he had not set out openly to campaign for the presidency a couple of years in advance, and unlike MacArthur he had no spectacular World War II and post-World War II background to keep him in the public eye, nationally speaking. (His own war background was from private to lieutenant in the first fracas.)

Finally, he had the additional handicap of not being trusted too for by the Republican king-makers because, out in California he at one time termed himself an "independent" and won both the Republican and the Democratic gubernatorial nominations.

Although it definitely proved his vote-getting prowess, it hardly improved his standing with the rock-ribbed Republican element which, naturally, views with alarm anyone who shows a capacity for getting along too well with the enemy.

In short, the selection of Warrent for a spot which has been viewed with increasing importance since the arrival of the current incumbent in the White House came as a bit of shock to many of the boys who usually know the score.

* * *

Changes In Four Years.

FOR one thing, they didn't think Dewey—whose critics often term him an extremely vindictive man—would forgive Warren for refusing to risk his future by running with the New Yorker against Roosevelt and Truman in 1944.

For another, some of them took quite seriously (however naive it might now seem) Warren's insistence four years ago that he would not desert the voters of California for anything less than the presidency.

Both beliefs certainly proved fallible. Looking backward now, it seems fairly obvious why they were.

For one thing, Dewey's rumored vindictiveness may be overrated or, if not, it may be that he has learned to curb it. And certainly, he and Warren have a great deal in common insofar as their backgrounds are concerned.

Both were born of middle-class parents, both worked and studied hard to become lawyers, both became district attorneys, both gained first real fame with spectacular racket-busting prosecution cases, both tended once to be isolationists but shifted their views along with the national change of mind, and both have concentrated intensely on the job of being efficient administrators during their terms as governors of two geographically-extreme American states.

In short, there is little doubt but that Dewey feels "comfortable" around Warren—and that means a great deal to the hard-hitting ambitious New Yorker.

As for Warren's change of mind, that is simple of explanation. For one thing, in 1944, he didn't think he could be elected vice-president because he didn't think the Republicans could beat Roosevelt. This time he thinks he can win.

When you share a desk and telephone with an office mate in a business office and you use the phone, do make sure you put the instrument back where the desk mate can reach it easily when he wishes to use it.

1. A fish-eating duck, an expert diver, having a slender bill hooked at the end and usually with a crested head.
2. An aquatic, herbivorous mammal with a broad and rounded tail.
3. An African ant-eating, burrowing animal. There are two species.

Daily Bible Thought

He hath scattered the people that delight in war.—Psalms 68: 30.

Dave Boone Says:

YOU HAD only to watch or take part in auto travel over the glorious fourth to realize that a lot of folks thought the Declaration of Independence was a document defying red lights and caution signs.

* * *

We're a queer people. We take fireworks away from children to prevent accidents, and then we turn the grownups loose in automobiles over a holiday week-end.

* * *

If there is one thing that should be contemplated with solemn regard and sincere appreciation and reverence it is the American Declaration of Independence, but the celebration has taken on a mad form which gives the idea we are celebrating a mardi gras.

* * *

To my way of thinking America used to do it a lot better with redfire and Chinese firecrackers than she does it with streamlined cars, road maps and hot brakes.

Farmer's Diary

The Best of Harvest

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THERE'S a bubbling joy distilled in the summer air of our valley at this time of year. I walked out of our small brown house after a shower of warm rain had passed, and stood on the wet lawn enjoying the feel of it.

Things smelled so good. The whole landscape was gay with color. Across the creek, on the hill, a wide strip of rich amber wheat edged up against the forest green of the timber. Wave after wave of balmy south wind caressed the smiling gaiety of the wheat heads, making undulating rhythms and swells that fascinated me.

An idle cloud sailed over and shadows raced in frolic across the even line of golden heads. My thoughts went along — how a cloud-rift sets shadows free to roam across a fertile land at will. The green woods take the shadow, roll it like a tattered curtain far up beyond the summit of the ridge.

Scents and flavors mingle—ripening grain, rain-wet earth, a small boy with dark stains on his lips runs up with bright eyes and a handful of wild black raspberries. "Taste 'em, smell 'em," he says. "Only one in each cluster is ripe, and it takes a long while to get even that many—but aren't they good!"

I pull him close. He smells good, too — mingled earthy-boy, swimming hole, raspberry perfume such as only fathers dote on. Vigorous, growthy odor that suits the tanned brown of his half-naked body, where each muscle stands out in firm miniature of a man.

"Call mother," I said. "She must see something—I want to show her."

So we walked, she and I, a little way down the road, sharing the vivid warmth and richness of the hour. A bobolink mounted singing in mid-air. A friendly quail whistled from the wheat. A cock pheasant sounded an urgent call to his harem and two demure hen pheasants scurried across our path.

Returning, just after sundown, the brilliant afterglow cast translucent light over the whole picture. It made us feel very small—very humble—to be a living, walking, breathing, sharing part of such magnificence. The best of harvest is not handled in bushels or measured by binsful. Now is it?

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"You guys are always telling me how much better you see things from here!!"

Allies to Try Tojo Behind Closed Doors

Even Telephone Sealed In Room

TOKYO—(AP)—The most closely guarded allied billet in Japan for weeks to come will be a castle-like three-story stone building in Tokyo, known as 'Hattori house"

The building, already fenced in with barbed wire and studded with sentries, will be used for an estimated period of six weeks as the final translating and processing site of Hideki Tojo's trial. The final verdict will be arrived at here.

Security preparations got underway two weeks ago for the protection of the 86 men and women assigned to this last chapter of the two-year-old trial of Japanese war criminals

Personnel ranging from translaters to clerks, typists, mimeograph operators and miscellaneous assistants will virtually be imprisoned in the compound until their job is completed

'PHONES CUT OFF

All outside telephone communications will be cut off with the exception of one phone locked in the room of the officer in charge All outgoing mail will be censored and incoming supplies will be carefully inspected at check points

A medical officer and infirmary equipment are included in the security preparations so that no one will be permitted to leave the grounds for any purpose until last work of judgment has been recorded in Japanese.

All personnel concerned have voluntarily joined the project with full knowledge of its isolation and rigid regulations The staff includes three American women — two typists and a clerk—and 31 Japanese women

The building is situated on a high hill in South Tokyo It was formerly the residence of Kintaro Hattori, head of a well known Japanese clock and jewelry firm

Rural Camp Made Ready

Preparations for the 1948 season of the 4-H club camp at Camp Conger are going ahead full speed, according to acting Huron County Agent William G Kneisel

Projects completed at the camp include spraying all camp buildings and picnic tables with DDT for fly and mosquito control.

The dining hall at the camp was re-roofed and screened and members of the Rural Youth Study club and the Hi-H club assisted in cleaning the grounds

Members of the 4 H clubs will begin sending in their reservations to the county extension office soon for the junior camp period July 19 to July 23 and the senior camp period July 23 to July 25

Roaring 'Cyclists Land In Jail

RIVERSIDE, Calif —(AP)— The celebration of independence day in Riverside was riotous Police Lieut Paul Stanley said 28 persons, most of them motorcyclists enroute to an amateur racing meet at nearby Box Springs had been jailed for drunkenness and disturbance

More than 2 000 cyclists roared through Riverside, enroute to the race meet littered streets with beer bottles and threw firecrackers at officers who tried to arrest them

Free Burma Sees Better Days Ahead

People Accept Danger Cheerfully

RANGOON, Burma —(AP)— The people of newly freed Burma live in an atmosphere of impending danger. They accept it cheerfully. Their minds are on the better days they feel sure are ahead.

Rifles and tommy guns of self-styled communist insurgents spatter bullets in sporadic raids upon interior villages. Rangoon, the capital city is quiet but heavily guarded. Everywhere is evidence of extensive police and military vigilance.

The visitor, however, quickly is impressed with the people's spirit, and the determination of the hard-fisted government to keep the peace.

A stranger finds plenty of evidence that the people as a whole are behind the leftist course their government has set. It is difficult, however, to find anything that looks like a general desire for a plunge into communism.

The average citizen is intensely nationalistic; he wants Burma for Burmans; he believes government ownership is the best means of breaking the foreigner's grip upon his country's resources; he seems to have little patience with talk of communism.

FOLLOWS TOUGH POLICY

The government is tough, and admits it readily. It is a people's government, but freedom such as the people of Democratic countries in the west enjoy is still something in the future. The press is censored—even cables of foreign correspondents are censored at times. The police and the executive government have broad emergency powers of search, seizure and arrest.

Holstered pistols peeping from under the jackets of detectives and others close to the government are a common sight. Everywhere there is a showing of force.

The government says it does not want to be tough, but that it must be in these transition times. Its official explanation is that it must control the self-starter politician who surrounds himself with gunmen and thinks how nice it would be if he could run the country.

I asked representative Burmans about it. They said, almost to a man, they believed their government was not perfect, but that it has done as good a job as it was possible to do. They point to the tragic murder of their war hero, Prime Minister U Aung San, and six cabinet colleagues by the gunmen of former Prime Minister U Saw on July 19, 1947. U Saw and five henchmen were hanged for the crime May 8.

Foreigners say about the same thing: The government has done essentially a good job. It has had to make concessions to extremists to keep its coalition forces from falling apart. (The anti-fascist People's Freedom league welds numerous parties and unions into the coalition government).

Practically nobody, discussing this tough government in any way, will agree to be quoted by name, unless he is a member of the government and speaks on a familiar subject.

Thankin No, who has announced he will retire as prime minister July 20, says he plans to devote more energies to promoting his United Left party, which he hopes will take over the government by democratic process.

5 Billion Asked For Education

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The National Education Association wants the United States to spend $5,000,000,000 annually to teach public school children. The present rate is about $3,500,000,000.

This was announced by G. E. Snow of St. George, Utah, president of the NEA, on the eve of the group's 86th convention.

"And for our building needs," he said, "we propose a $1,000,000,000 annual program for 10 years to eliminate obsolete and unsafe buildings, to provide the facilities we need for growing enrollments and to care for consolidations of school districts to provide more efficient systems."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

Robert Best's Belief In Hitler Was Basic Cause of Treason Trial

BOSTON—There is no doubt that Robert Best, now convicted of treason, was a spy in the sense that he pretended to be drowsy with dope and spent hours listening to other American journalists, tourists and agents of one kind and another over the coffee tables in Vienna. It should be hoped, however, that they revealed no secret information of importance and it is probable that they didn't know any.

He certainly did learn what their sympathies were, however, and the names of some of the wretches whom they were seeing on the quiet in Germany and Austria, and he may have reported all this to the Austrian nazis. As between the nazis and the communists or the futile socialists, he unquestionably strung with the nazis. He was free to do this without embarrassment under our laws.

Actually Best has been sentenced to life in prison because he believed national socialism was a good political system and Hitler a good chief executive for Germany, and that communism was an unscrupulous, insidious and implacable enemy of western civilization.

That he eavesdropped and tattled on other Americans who carelessly trusted him because he had an American passport is readily admitted. But these were matters for personal adjustment, manfashion, and never can be any business of any American court.

★

Best was, in the juicy English word, a swine, and, in the shorter and uglier Americanese, a louse. But his treason consisted of broadcasts in which he reiterated from Berlin old arguments that Americans, with our press, our school budget and our vaunted education, should have been able to demolish if they were unsound, and refute if they were false.

Meanwhile, and to this day, on the American scene, the truth of Best's fundamental charge, that the communists will get us if we don't watch out, has been admitted by the state department, the department of justice, the CIO and President Harry S. Truman.

Best also advised us after Pearl Harbor to abandon our war with Hitler and join him in the fight against Russia.

There a treason case may be. It would be, at worst, however, a harmless and highly technical case by comparison with the countless, defiant betrayals of the United States to Stalin which have been proved by the Dies and Thomas committees of Congress against thousands of individuals, natives as well as ingrate refugees.

★

Best and the few other Americans who have been sent up on these highly political charges will get out if they don't die untimely. That being so, they deserve about what they are getting. Our error is that we let journals of the line devil us into confusion with their horror at the awful fate of a lot of communist traitors who are doing short bits in good jails for perjury and contempt of Congress.

Dewey Picks Specialists To Aid Drive

Brownell Will Direct Group

PAWLING, N. Y. — (U.P.) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is assembling an organization of specialists to help him in the presidential campaign, it was disclosed today.

The group, working under the direction of Campaign Manager Herbert Brownell jr., includes authorities on international affairs, politicians, legislators, newspapermen, radio technicians, movie experts, college professors and students of economics.

John Foster Dulles, U.S. delegate to the United Nations, will advise on foreign affairs. He is in almost constant communication with Dewey.

James C Hagerty, former political writer, has been assigned to handle newspapers and magazines.

Glen Allvine has the newsreel assignment, and Ford Bond, radio executive, will supervise the air campaign

Dewey emphasized that the experts would only take care of organization plans. He will ask state Republican leaders to carry out the plan.

"I am looking for the support of every member of the Republican party," he said.

The governor and his running mate, Gov. Earl Warren of California, plan an extensive speaking schedule. And their talks will be based on material gathered by the experts.

Present plans call for starting the major phase of the campaign soon after Labor Day.

Health Chief Starts Work

Dr. Harry Wain, newly-appointed city-county health commissioner, officially took the reins of the department today.

"The first thing I'm going to do," he said, "is to make a study of the existing program and examine the health needs of the community with the idea of building up the weak points and making the strong points stronger."

He said he could not discuss any definite plans until the study has been completed but he promised a progressive program of public health for the community.

Dr. Wain, former acting director of the Miami Valley hospital at Dayton, again described as his most pressing problem the finding of a place to live.

"I need a five or 6 room rental property for my wife and two children," he said.

The new health director will "get acquainted" with members of the city and county health boards at an informal meeting at the city building at 7:30 tonight.

Hangs Self In Cell

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)—Worthington Smith, 34, Columbus laborer, hanged himself in his city prison cell early today shortly after he had been arrested for intoxication, police reported. Police said Smith was placed in the cell shortly before 1 a. m. His body was found hanging from the cell ceiling a half hour later.

Man Sees Planting of Bomb

By RALPH DISLER

Beeause a man arose in the night to take a dose of medicine, there is an eye-witness to the planting and lighting of the bomb which shattered the back door of the Crescent cafe of 22 South Park in the early morning Monday.

Hugh Walter, 23 East Second street, went into the kitchen of his first floor apartment to take his medicine between 1 and 1:30 a. m. Monday. He has been taking the medicine regularly for a long time and didn't need a light for the operation.

He heard the sound of footsteps in the narrow court which separates his kitchen from the back of business places which front on South Park, and out of curiosity he looked out. He saw a man walk up to the back door of the Crescent.

His curiosity was enhanced when he saw the man set something on the back step of the cafe.

Then, as Walter watched, the man, a mere darker blur against the darkness of the night, lighted his cigaret lighter and bent over to touch it to the "thing" which he had placed against the door, Walter told News-Journal newsmen.

CALLS TO INTRUDER

His suspicions aroused, Walter called out:

"What are you doing back there?"

The man finished the job of lighting something, and Walter said he saw a little burst of sparks—probably the powder in a wick attached to a bomb as it first caught fire from the flame of the cigaret lighter.

Then the man at the back of the cafe ran, his hard heels making a resounding echo on the bricks of the court.

Walter said that the man entered the alley from the Diamond street side, and then took his departure through a narrow passageway to Second street, indicating that the bombing had been thoroughly "cased" and the bomb planter was completely familiar with the surroundings.

WIFE CALLS POLICE

When Walter's suspicions were first aroused, his wife called police who arrived on the scene shortly afterward. Firemen also were called subsequently and it was while police and firemen were pouring water upon the bomb, which had been clearly picked out by policemen and firemen's searchlight beams, that the blast occurred.

Walter said that he was unable to see sufficiently well in the darkness to enable him to give any description of the man who planted the bomb.

Walter's call to the man who set the bomb was heard by Tom Whorl, who lives upstairs at 22½ South Park. He watched as police and firemen tried to prevent the bomb explosion, but had retired to the hall of his home, away from the rear of the building when the blast occurred. Besides Whorl and his wife, the third floor of the Crescent Cafe building is occupied by Mrs. Hattie Zeigler and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Mathews, none of whom were hurt.

Carole Landis, Movie Star, Takes Own Life

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The glamorized movie career of Actress Carole Landis came to an abrupt end yesterday with the finding of her body in the bathroom of her Pacific Palisades home. Police said she had taken her own life.

Clutched in her hand was a satin ribbon with the Lord's prayer imprinted in gold lettering. On a nearby dresser was a final note addressed to her mother.

Capt. of Detectives Emmett Jones said: "This is definitely a suicide." The detective said there were four bottles of sleeping pills in Miss Landis' bathroom and dressing room. He said an empty bottle was found near the body.

Carole Landis

Capt. Jones reported the beautiful blond actress, 29, had died perhaps 12 hours before the body was found by Film Actor Rex Harrison, who said he had been unable to reach her by telephone regarding a business matter.

The officers said a maid was in the home but had thought Miss Landis was still in her bedroom and did not notice the body huddled in a corner of the bathroom.

Miss Landis left a note, written on her own stationery, which read as follows:

"Dearest Mommie—

"Im sorry, really sorry to put you through this but there is no way to avoid it—I love you darling, you have been the most wonderful mom ever—and that applies to all our family. I love each and every one of them dearly—everything goes to you—look in the files and there is a will which decrees everything—

"Goodbye, my angel—pray for me—your baby."

Harrison told police that Miss Landis had been ill for a week, suffering a recurrence of an amoebic infection she incurred during a wartime entertainment tour in the South Pacific. The actor said he and Miss Landis had been discussing plans for a film they were to make in England.

Only last March 22 the actress filed suit to divorce her fourth husband, Theatrical Producer Horace Schmidlapp.

The actress' mother, Mrs. Clara Landis of Seminole Hot Springs, Calif., collapsed after arriving at her daughter's home.

4-H Club Meets

The Shamrock 4-H club of Olivesburg met recently at the home of Charlene Danals. Games were played and refreshments served after the business meeting. The next meeting will be July 14 at the home of Marlene Lee.

Another Guard Says Rail Gates Not Lowered

The second narrow escape from being struck by a Pennsylvania train at the East Fourth street crossing during the week end was reported to police late Sunday.

Bill Keefe, 135 Rae avenue, told officers he just missed being struck by a train at 11 p. m. when he entered the crossing. Keefe told police the gates were up.

Police said the watchman told them he failed to see the train coming.

A similar report of the gates being up while the crossing was being used by the railroad came early Sunday from Hollis Moorhead, 501 Lexington avenue. He reported to police that his car was almost struck by a fast passenger train at the crossing because the gates had not been lowered. Moorhead said he backed his car off the crossing just in time to avoid being hit.

Joe Cantrell, watchman at the crossing, told police he was having trouble with the gates. Police said the gates were later lowered and appeared to be working all right.

2 Area Men Enlist For Duty In Navy

Two area men have enlisted for temporary active service at their own request and reported to the Mansfield U. S. Naval Training Center, Lt. Cmdr. John A. Smith announced today.

Robert O. Emerson, chief electrician, 121 Glessner avenue, and Darwin C. Hyde, damage controlman, second class, Ashland, will be assigned to the Mansfield Training center for three months with an option for an extension of service.

This brings the total complement to 12 enlisted men and fills the unit's openings which called for 10 men until a recent complement increase for two additional men was authorized.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

His employes and associates at the Renner and Weber Brewing company are congratulating Julius Weber, president, on his 81st birthday today

Weber, who has been president of the company for the past 38 years, was born and raised in Mansfield. Older residents will remember when he owned the old ice plant next to the Tappan Stove company on Wayne street. He sold the plant about 20 years ago to devote his full time to the brewing business.

He is an Elk and a Shriner and spends his leisure time playing cards and talking to friends who remember the "good old days."

E. E. "Eddie" Mason of the Madge Kinsey Players also observed his birthday today. Mason, whose home is at 987 Ashland road, has been with the Kinsey Players 15 years. He's busy with publicity for the Players' annual visit to Mansfield next week. In additions to his publicity work, Mason appears in the Players' cast. He will celebrate his birthday with a party tonight at his home.

★

KITTEN RESCUED—

Four Ideal Electric company maintenance men staged a rescue act at the plant this morning, pulling a tiny kitten from between a wall and partition. The mother cat led J. W. Funk, plant maintenance superintendent, to the kitten and Kunk enlisted the aid of Mike Holzworth, Richard Homerick, and Ira Morgan in rescuing the little tabby which appeared none the worse for its experience. The kitten is half of the family of a pet at the plant.

STILL A MYSTERY—

Members of the Mansfield YMCA Century Cycle club met at Carpenter school grounds this morning, planning to leave on a "mystery trip." They cast one look at the threatening sky and agreed on a postponement until Thursday. The entire group immediately headed for the YMCA and jumped into the pool with all traces of dissappointment quickly erased. The club will participate in a "treasure hunt" Thursday to compensate for missing the "mystery trip."

Smashing of all windows in the South park rest rooms was under police investigation today. Officers said they discovered the smashed windows at 7 p. m. yesterday. The buildings were litered with paper.

City Area Has Few Mishaps

1 Killed, 1 Hurt Here In Traffic

The Mansfield area today counted its holiday week-end traffic toll at one dead and one injured as the death list across the nation reached 550.

Thirty persons died in Ohio accidents, 19 of them in traffic mishaps, as millions of motorists thronged the highways. There were six drownings, three deaths from fire and two in train accidents

Four-year-old Ronald Hannawalt, 562 South Diamond street, suffered bruises on his left leg yesterday when he coasted his wagon into the path of a car driven by Charles E. Lewis, Mansfield, R. D. 5.

Police said the accident occurred at 2:30 p. m. when the child coasted from his drive-way. The boy was treated at General hospital and released.

Victim of a traffic accident late Saturday on West Fourth street road was Joe Zanino, 75-year-old retired Pennsylvania railroad employe, who was struck as he stepped off the center walk on the road into the path of a car driven by Robert H. McCarthy of Galion. Mr. Zanino died early Sunday in General hospital.

RITES ARRANGED

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Wednesday at the Jones Memorial with burial in Mansfield cemetery. Mr. Zanino, who lived at the Ludwig rest home on West Fourth street road, was on the honor list of retired Pennsylvania railroad employes.

Although a total of 15 "fender benders" were reported from Saturday through Monday by state highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and police, officials agreed that the week end was "quiet."

Cpl. J. L. Bishop, head of the highway patrol post here, said motorists "seemed to be driving very sensibly, despite very heavy traffic."

Cpl. Bishop reported eight minor accidents during the holiday five of which occurred Sunday. Sheriff's deputies reported only one accident, on Sunday, and police said they investigated six minor mishaps during the three days.

The national traffic picture showed that four persons lost their lives in fireworks accidents while an undetermined number suffered injuries in fireworks mishaps.

296 DIE IN TRAFFIC

A final survey of acicdental deaths from Friday night until last midnight showed: 296 persons killed in traffic accidents; 184 drowned; 66 fatally injured in miscellaneous accidents, and four deaths from fireworks.

The toll of 550 compared to 546 killed in accidents over the three-day Fourth of July holiday last year. The 296 fatalities resulting from accidents on highways were more than the 235 estimated by the National Safety Council.

Clear skies and hot weather lured millions to lake resorts and vacation lands. The council had estimated 30,000,000 cars would be travelling during the three days. The traffic deaths compared to 264 last year, while the 184 drownings compared to 114 in the Independence day holiday in 1947.

Only two of the 48 states—New Hampshire and South Dakota—reported no accidental deaths. Pennsylvania had the heaviest state toll—44, including 23 traffic fatalities; 14 drownings; six miscellaneous and one fireworks. California, Iowa and Oregon each reported one death from fireworks.

Dog Walker Reports Shot Fired at Him

Frank E. Bebout, 325 Reed street, reported to police at 1:10 a. m. Sunday that someone shot at him while he was walking his dog.

Bebout said dirt, kicked up by the bullet, struck him in the face. Police investigation failed to reveal the direction from which the shot was fired. The bullet was not found.

Bob Lemon Wins 12th as Indians Break Even

Big Sport Boom Is Still On

By TIM MORIARTY

NEW YORK—(UP)—The experts who have been predicting the end of the nation's post-war sports boom today stopped and reconsidered.

Granted ideal, sunny weather on most fronts, sports-minded citizens across the nation flocked to the ball parks and the race tracks yesterday for their holiday amusement.

And most attendance figures ran close to the marks established last Independence day.

★

There was a negligible decrease in the major league baseball attendance figures. Last year's figures, which included a morning and afternoon game at Brooklyn totaled 283,736. Yesterday's eight doubleheaders drew 269,914, representing a minor decrease of 13,822.

The National league again outdrew its rival loop, checking 137,805 through the turnstiles. The American league totaled 132,109.

Cleveland's municipal stadium housed the top baseball crowd, when 59,042 partisans watched the league leading Indians split a twin-bill with the Detroit Tigers.

★

A total of 278,971 persons witnessed racing at 10 of the nation's major tracks. This compared favorably with last year's mark, when 293,390 hardboots jammed their way into 11 courses.

California's Hollywood park drew the day's top race crowd—52 634 fans. And a new record was set at Arlington park, Illinois, when 46,490 persons turned out to watch Calumet Farm's superb colt, Citation, gallop to victory in the $50,000 Stars and Stripes handicap.

Hollywood park also was credited with the top mutuel handle of day—a staggering $2,901,139. Aqueduct park, New York, totaled $2,592,948 while Arlington also passed the two-million mark with $2,110,103.

★

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Yesterday's crowd of 59,042 at the Cleveland stadium for the Indians-Tigers holiday twin bill swelled Cleveland's 1948 attendance mark to 1,042,475 customers for 28 playing dates.

Last year, the Tribe had not attracted a million fans until Aug 8, the date of their 46th game.

If the present average of 37 000 per game is maintained, the Tribe will draw close to 2,000,000 customers this season. The Indians finished with a total of 1,521,978 paid admissions last year.

New York passed the million mark in attendance last week. For 34 games at home they have drawn 1,077,915 spectators.

Lucas Vet 9 Wins, 3 to 2

CARDINGTON — The Lucas Vet nine had to go ten innings here yesterday to edge Cardington, 3 to 2.

Lucas went ahead with a pair or runs in the fourth inning but the home team knotted the count in the seventh. Barger, Lucas pitcher, was the hitting and batting star. He gave up six hits, fanned eight and contributed a pair of doubles.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

BATTING—Ralph Kiner, Pirates and Bobby Doerr, Red Sox—Kiner blasted three home runs in the first game and drove in five runs as the Pirates whipped the Reds 10-3. The Reds came back to win the nightcap 6-4. Doerr crashed three home runs in the second game as the Red Sox defeated the Yankees twice 6-5 and 8-7.

PITCHING—Gerry Staley, Cardinals—Without a victory a season ago, Staley pitched five-hit ball to receive credit for both Cardinal triumphs over the Cubs 6-3 and 5-2.

Bob Feller Goes Down In Finale

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The league-leading Cleveland Indians still were swimming today despite Manager Lou Boudreau's statement that the Tribe would "sink or swim with Bob Feller."

The Indians sank in the second half of a doubleheader yesterday with Feller on the mound, but retained their one-game lead over the Philadelphia Athletics by gaining an even split with the Detroit Tigers before 59,042 stadium fans.

Boudreau summarily lifted starter Sam Zoldak in the eighth frame of the nightcap, but Feller failed dismally in a relief appearance to give Detroit a 7-5 victory after Cleveland copped the opener, 6-3.

STILL IS WILD

Feller who hurled his eighth win at St Louis Saturday, retired one batter before being afflicted with his customary relief wildness. He walked two and Pat Mullins then cracked his only safety of the day—a three-run game-winning homer into the right field stands. Feller was charged with his ninth loss of the season.

Bright feature of the holiday twin bill was the consistent hurling of Bob Lemon who was unable to repeat his brilliant no-hitter against the Tigers in the opener, although he coasted to his 12th victory against six losses for a major league high in triumphs.

Lemon aided his own cause with a timely single in the fourth inning of the opener as the Indians sewed up the game with five runs. Joe Gordon's 16th homer with one aboard and Dale Mitchell's three-run triple with the bases loaded sparked the winning rally.

HITS TWO HOMERS

Ken Keltner soared into the American league league homer lead with his 18th round tripper in the opener and his 19th circuit swat in the nightcap. Walt Judnich slammed his first home run and Eddie Robinson cracked his 10th in the nightcap of the eight homer twin bill.

Art Houtteman was clubbed for his 11th loss against two wins in the opener, while Fred Hutchinson gained credit for the nightcap victory as he received valuable relief aid from Hal Newhouser.

Bob Muncrief will aim for his sixth triumph against one loss tonight in the finale of a three-game series, with Paul (Dizzy) Trout hurling for Detroit.

Citation Boosts Earnings to 4th At Chicago Track

CHICAGO —(UP)— Little Eddie Arcaro, who pushed mighty Citation from far behind to win the Arlington park stars and stripes $50,000 added handicap, said today he had "never been on a horse to compare with him."

Citation's win yesterday boosted him into fourth place in Turf-dom's all-time money winners. The victory paid Calument Farms an even $38,000 and raised Citation's 1948 winnings to $427,020. Assault held the previous one year record with $424 195 in 1946.

Citation's all-time earnings jumped to $582,700. This placed him fourth behind Stymie, Armed and Assault.

All-Stars Win

Led by Benton who had two doubles and a triple in four trips Ohio State Reformatory All-Stars defeated Plymouth, 8-7, at the Reformatory.

Butler Merchants Defeat Tavern Baseballers, 5-4

The Mansfield T and E Tavern baseball team missed out in its quest for victory No 8 yesterday afternoon, dropping a 5-to-4 decision to the Butler Merchants at Liberty park.

Holding a 4-to-2 lead going into the eighth inning, the Taverns appeared well on the way to victory. However, Butler got to Pitcher Ernie Tinkey for three runs in that frame and the game was over.

Tinkey scattered 13 hits, walked only two and struck out six. His mates got nine blows off Bobby Glasscock who walked six and whiffed seven.

Richard Snavely was the leading hitter with two singles and a double.

Top Athletes Try For Spots In Olympics

CHICAGO —(UP)— The nation's top athletes will try for berths on the U S Olympic team in track and field finals Friday and Saturday at Dyche stadium.

Fifty-six of the more than 200 entrants will be selected to represent the U.S. in the Olympics in London this August.

Only one member of the last U.S. Olympic squad, which competed in Berlin in 1936, will be present this week. He is Earl Meadows, former University of Southern California great, who set a new Olympic record in the pole vault in 1936 at 14 feet 3 inches. But Meadows finished in a tie for sixth place in the qualifying events.

TWELVE IN EACH

There are 12 entrants in each event, except in the 5,000 meter run, which is open. Six of the finalists qualified in the NCAA preliminaries held last month in Minneapolis, and the other six in the NAAU events in Milwaukee last week.

The top three in each event this week, plus one 100-meter dash man and one meter run man to be selected by the coaches, will go to London. Other members of the team are the 10,000 meter decathlin men and the walkers, who have already been chosen in separate qualification trials.

Gil Dodds, one of the outstanding runners in the country for nearly 10 years, will make his first try for a spot on the Olympic team this week. Dodds, who holds the American indoor record for the mile, is entered in the 1,500 meter run.

Hurt In Race

NEW YORK —(INS)— Jockey Charlie Williams is recovering today from a fractured collar bone suffered when his mount, Khardar, fell at the last jump in the steeplechase race at Aqueduct.

Wins Twin Bill

The Ohio Sport Center softball team won a double-header Sunday, defeating Ashland Faultless Rubber, 14-6, and Shelby VFW, 4-3.

Four Teams To See Game

Ed Chatlain, Hot Stove baseball commissioner announced today that plays on the West Fifth, Hedges, Bushnell, and Brinkerhoff elementary teams will be eligible for the trip to the Cleveland-Chicago White Sox game Thursday.

Actual members of the four teams will be given permission slips at tomorrow's games to be signed by their parents. The boys will meet at 8 a. m. Thursday at the City Recreation office, 14½ West Fourth street, and will make the trip in the Hot Stove league bus.

Chatlain also reminded Junior league players that beginning this week all games will start at 1:30 p. m. instead of 3:30.

Lakemore Splurge Defeats Grays, 6-5

Lakemore Army-Navy came from far behind yesterday afternoon to edge the Mansfield Grays, 6 to 5, at the Blue Goose field.

Sent away to a two-run lead in the first inning, the Grays increased their margin to 5-to-2 in the sixth. Red Hamman's single, a triple by Kenny Funk and Dean Hahn's single gave the Grays their first inning margin.

Funk's second hit, a single, followed by two errors gave Mansfield another run in the third but the visitors counted two times in the fourth. Two more Lakemore errors and a three-ply wallop by Jim Meeting halted the Mansfield scoring in the fifth.

START MOVING

The Army-Navy outfit picked up single runs in the seventh and eighth and then got the deciding pair in the top of the ninth. Three singles and a pair of stolen bases accounted for the damage.

Both teams garnered 10 hits, Hamman and Funk each getting three for the losers. Gray ace Jack Hammett started but was lifted in the seventh in favor of Hahn, a left-hander.

★

A total of $256, the Grays' share of their last three games, will be turned over to the family of Foster Burggraf. Only $56 was made over the week end, the rest of the money having been realized at the Chicago Brown Bomber game Friday.

★

Getting six big runs in the fourth frame, the Madison township team defeated Shelby American Legion juniors in the preliminary test, 8 to 4. Dick Ernsberger limited Shelby to five hits but walked seven. He struck out four.

Final 'Star' Votes Counted

CHICAGO —(INS)— Final returns from the nation-wide poll to determine the starting lineups of the National and American league teams in the inter-league all-star baseball game to be played at St. Louis July 13 will be announced tomorrow.

The American league's starting lineup appeared to be established except for the battle for the catcher's position between Birdie Tebbetts of the Boston Red Sox and Buddy Rosar of the Philadelphia Athletics. Tebbetts had 999,146 votes to 981,024 for Rosar.

National league players, however, still were battling for starting positions at second and third bases, shortstop, right field and catcher.

Balloting closed last night at midnight.

Skee Riegel Wears Triple Golf Crown

WICHITA, Kas. —(AP)— Golfer Skee Riegel wore a triple crown today.

The Glendale, Calif., shotmaker won the western amateur golf title yesterday, defeating James McHale, the ex-professional from Philadelphia, 3 and 1, in the finals of the week-long tournament.

Riegel also holds the national amateur crown and the trans-Mississippi tournament title.

Night Contest Scheduled In Softball Play

Five games, including one under the lights at Gorman-Rupp field, are on tap for Mansfield softball teams today.

The feature night contest at 8:30 brings together Greystone Nite club and Ohio Sport Center under the G-R floodlights. Greystone trails the league-leading Komito's Clothes team by one game in the Independent loop.

In the first round, Greystone won a 13-to-11 slugfest from Sport Center. The undefeated Komitos outfit meets Sons of Herman of the Club league at 6 p. m. today at Johns park.

The other Independent contest pits Penn Auto-Sporting Goods against American Legion Post 72 at North Lake park. Penn defeated Legion in the first round, 3 to 1.

The other contests are: Church league, First Presbyterian vs. First Congregational at Liberty park and Girls' league, Westinghouse vs. Ohio Brass at John Todd park. Ohio Brass is unbeaten in three starts.

Zimmerman's 69 Best Golf Score Posted Yesterday

Large throngs of Mansfielders crowded the city's three golf courses over the week end to take part in special events lined up for the holidays.

George Zimmerman fired the best score yesterday, a 33-36—69 over Possum Run. The blind bogey scheduled at Possum Run was cancelled because of threatening weather.

At Westbrook three classes of handicap play were held in the morning with a mixed foursome and blind bogey in the afternoon.

Bob Ide, Dick Koozer, and Howard Hosler tied in the Class A event as all had totals of 70 after their handicaps had been subtracted. Ide fired 81 and Koozer and Hosler 79.

Bert Earnshaw led in Class B with 85-19—66, while Bill Locke jr. and E. H. Brown tied with 87-19—68 and 81-13—68. Fred Hout topped Class B with a 78 total from a 101 net and 23 handicap.

Dale and Margaret Rose fired the best score in the mixed foursome—80-94—174. Milo Heiber and Mrs. Max Worthley had high gross, 88-159—247.

Five couples tied in the blind bogey. They were Charles Worthley and Pat Hieber, Dick Koozer and Nancy Smith, Ross Gage and Peg Soulen, Marion Ward and Dolly Hieber, and Chuck Orr and Helen Stevens. Pat Hieber had an 83, believed to be the best women's round of the year. Women's par is 77.

Benny Hogan Wins Tourney

DETROIT —(AP)— Belting Ben Hogan today counted his season's golf earnings at $20,197.50.

The Hershey, Pa., star annexed the motor city open and $2,600 yesterday, finishing with a two-over-par 73, just a stroke ahead of E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Albuquerque, N. M., in the special playoff that finished the first motor city competition.

Harrison, who won $1,900 for a second place share with his 73, immediately prepared to move on to Columbus, O., for the open meet that starts there Thursday. But Hogan will skip that affair in favor of a few exhibition matches.

Legion Nine Wins Crown From Galion

LOUDONVILLE — Mansfield's fine American Legion baseball aggregation reigned again today as champion of the southern section of district five.

Before a large holiday crowd here yesterday, the Mansfielders won an easy 5-to-0 decision over Galion. The victory gave Dewey Durant's lads the favorites role for the district tournament which opens Saturday at Bellevue. Elyria won the crown in 1947.

Dividing the mound efforts, Lou "Double No-Hit" Gregorio and Dutch Bader limited the Galion crew to four singles. Gregorio went the first seven innings and Bader pitched hitless ball in the last two. The starting pitcher helped his own cause with a two-run homer in the fourth.

FIRST SCORING

Successive singles by Sparkie Watts and Joe Distl opened the way for the Mansfield scoring in the second. Chuck Marchant whiffed but the first run scored in Ken McCally's single.

In the fifth inning, Gene Riblet was hit by a pitched ball, Watts walked and Marchant singled to fill the sacks. Again a McCally single plated a run. The final tally came in the eighth when Mike Gruber singled, stole second and rode to third on a single by Watts. A double by Distl plated the run.

It was the tenth straight victory for Mansfield and the fifth in tournament play. The winners collected 14 hits off two Galion tossers.

Red Sox, Dodgers Going Strong These Days

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK —(UP)— The Boston Red Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers a couple of "B" teams who spent most of the spring playing B league brand baseball no longer looked like fugitives from the Piedmont and Three I leagues today.

After letting down the followers who had pegged them as pennant contenders and possible world series opponents, they seemed ready at last to live up to preseason notices.

The rise of the Red Sox which has been in progress since early June, reached new heights yesterday when the 1948 champion Yankees were toppled twice 6 to 5 and 8 to 7 at Boston. Bobby Doerr hit three homers in the two games tying the score in the second game with a two-run blast in the eighth inning after which a single by Matt Batts, a sacrifice and Dom DiMaggios single provided the winning run.

Jack Kramer won the first game with relief help from Uncle Dennis Galehouse. Galehouse relieving again in the second game, was credited with that victory. Ted Williams went hitless in both games, giving him a mark of "0 for 10" in his last three games his average dropping to .386 from a high two weeks ago of .415.

The Dodgers sent the Phils back into fifth place with 4 to 3 and 10 to 1 triumphs at Philadelphia. In the 10-inning opener, Jackie Robinson singled and Gene Hermanski doubled him home with the winning run Rex Barney turned in one of the best hurling performances since he became a Dodger in the second game, fast-balling his way to a five-hit triumph as the Dodgers made 14. Rookie George Shuba and Pee Wee Reese batting three apiece. Shuba also got two first-game hits.

The Cardinals moved to within two games of the leading Braves by winning 6 to 3 and 5 to 2 decisions from the Cubs at St. Louis. Relief Pitcher Gerry Staley got credit for both victories his first two of the season. Stan Musial made two hits in each game to boost his average to .349. Bill Nicholson hit his ninth homer in the rain-shortened six-inning second game.

Ralph Kiner hit three homers in a 10-to-3 Pirate victory over Cincinnati but the Reds took the second game at Pittsburgh, 6 to 4 with a three-run rally in the ninth highlighted by Ted Kluszewskis homer. Stan Rojek hit his first big league homer for Pittsburgh in the nightcap.

The Indians broke even with Detroit winning the first game, 6 to 3 and losing the second, 5 to 7.

The Athletics chastized the Senators, 12 to 5, at Washington after losing the opener 3 to 1 on six-hit pitching by Mickey Haefner and two homers by carded Gillenwater. Eddie Majeski and Elmer Valo made three hits apiece and Ray Coleman got two triples in Philadelphia's 14-hit maltreatment of five Nat pitchers in the nightcap.

The White Sox moved within a game and a half of the seventh-place Browns, beating them 3 to 2 and 5 to 4 in 13 innings. Cass Michaels singled with the bases loaded to break up the second game. Fr
